FOREWORD

This year begins a new era at Denton High School. The school facilities will operate at full capacity for the first time since the planning of the building. The faculty has been extended to include a new principal and additional teachers.

It is the individual's responsibility to measure up to the new standards and achievements in the school system; and to take advantage of greater opportunities to expand knowledge and broaden ideas. As students it is our obligation to the community, to the school and to ourselves to respond with eagerness to this challenge of developing our potentials to its fullest degree.

Experience and Dedication Qualify

Mr. McNeely for Principal's Position

The responsibilities of any school principal encompass fields which are not always obvious. Hours spent counseling and encouraging students are never thoroughly appreciated. He must work closely with administration and faculty in order to be aware of the problems which require change and adaptation in school policy. These duties, and all of the other phases of D.H.S. life this year, became the responsibility of Mr. Clifton McNeely.

After serving five years as principal of the high school in Bridgeport, Mr. McNeely moved to Denton with his wife and three children. They moved here during the summer so he would be able to take over the pre-school duties of principal at Denton High. As his policies and ideas become a phase of D.H.S. life, his face and manners also begin to be an accepted part of the school system. Denton High School is indeed lucky to have this qualified and capable man to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Guyer.

Office assistants Stephanie Simmons and Susan Stott find that Mr. McNeely will take time to help them solve a problem for Scott Hutchison and Clyde Chrisman.

Mrs. Osentowski and Mrs. Jones stop by Mr. McNeely's office during their off periods to compare notes about their early experiences at D.H.S.

At a tea held on Mr. Strickland's birthday, Mr. McNeely takes time for an informal chat. The party gave Mr. Strickland a chance to ask if the McNeely family is enjoying Denton.

Growth and Change

Each year the sophomore class adds new faces and ideas to D.H.S. This year's class is the largest in the school's history. Early in the year, sophomores find the pleasant weather offers an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with the other students.

Meeting as a group for the first time, the administration and faculty find many of their ideas and plans for change will satisfy the growing need for improvement.

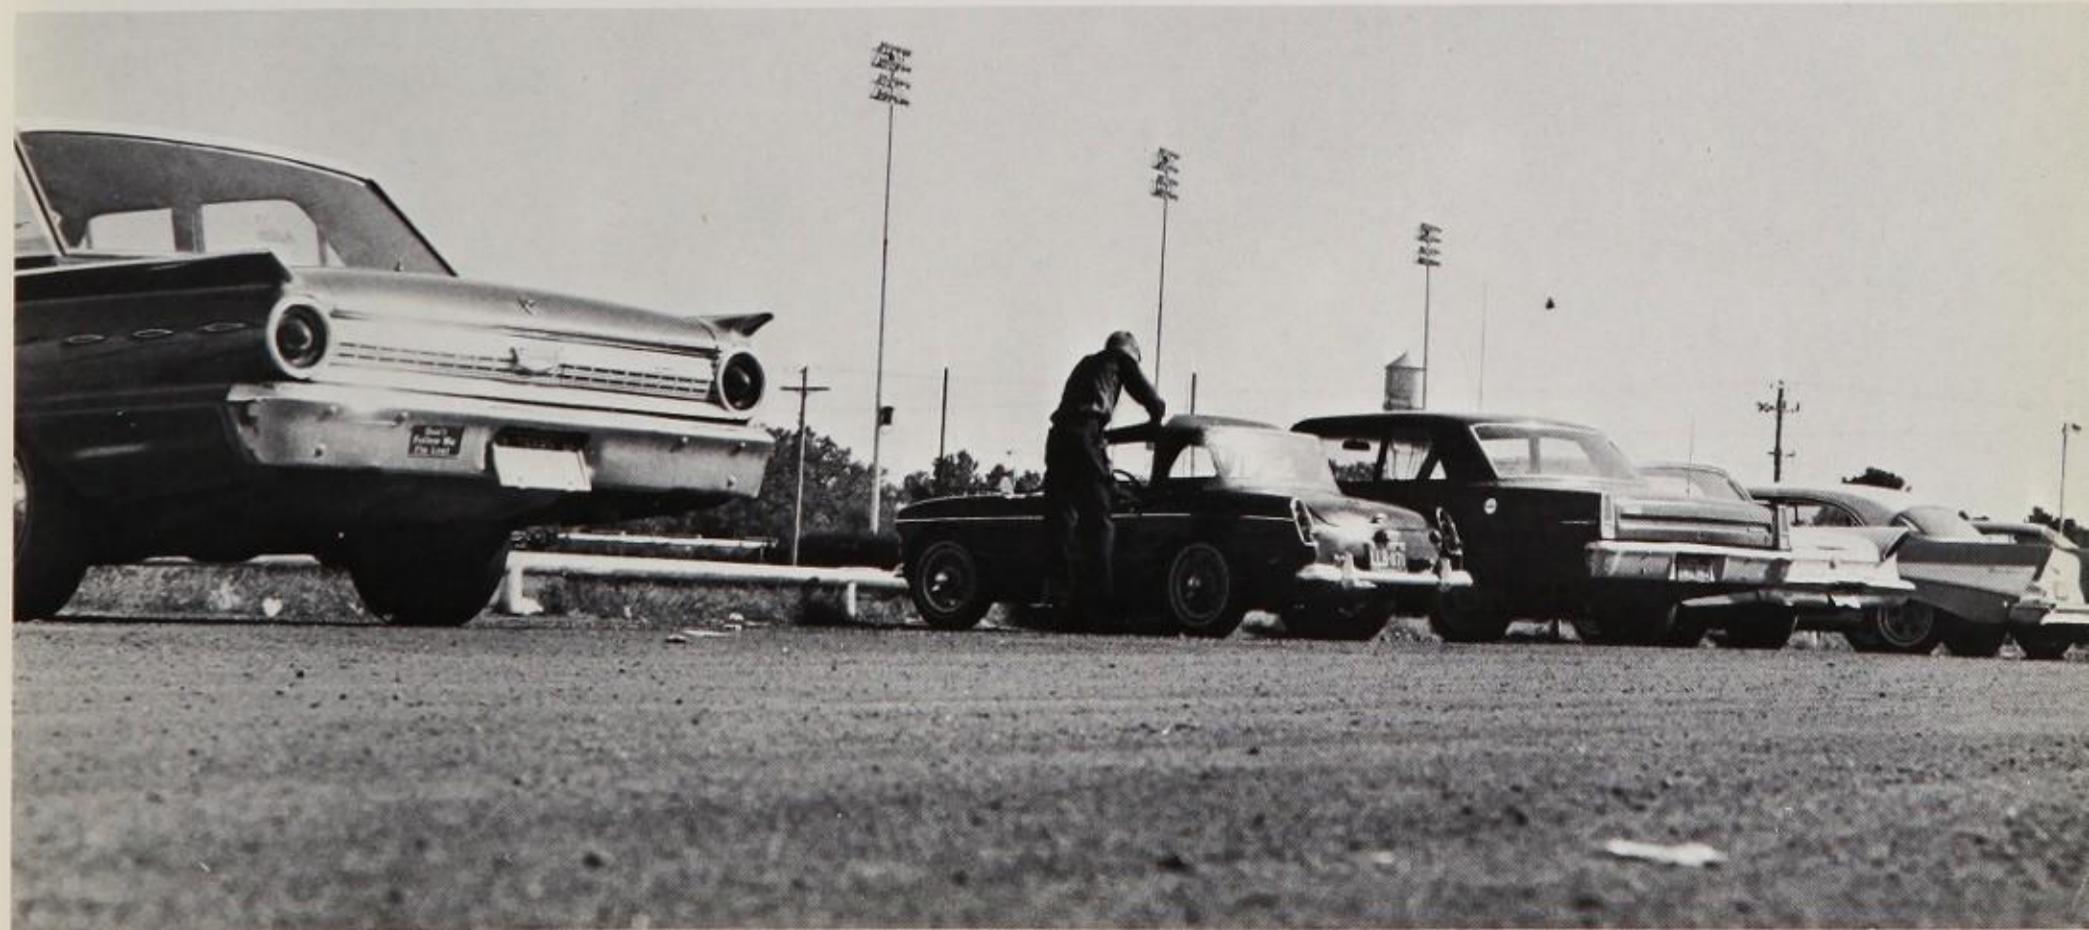

Span Entire School

The addition of the new wing offers students an opportunity to enjoy less crowded halls and classrooms.

In the school bond passed last year, a most important issue was the paving of the student parking lot. Arriving early at school, Don Roberson pauses to close the windows of a car and to reflect on the improvement.

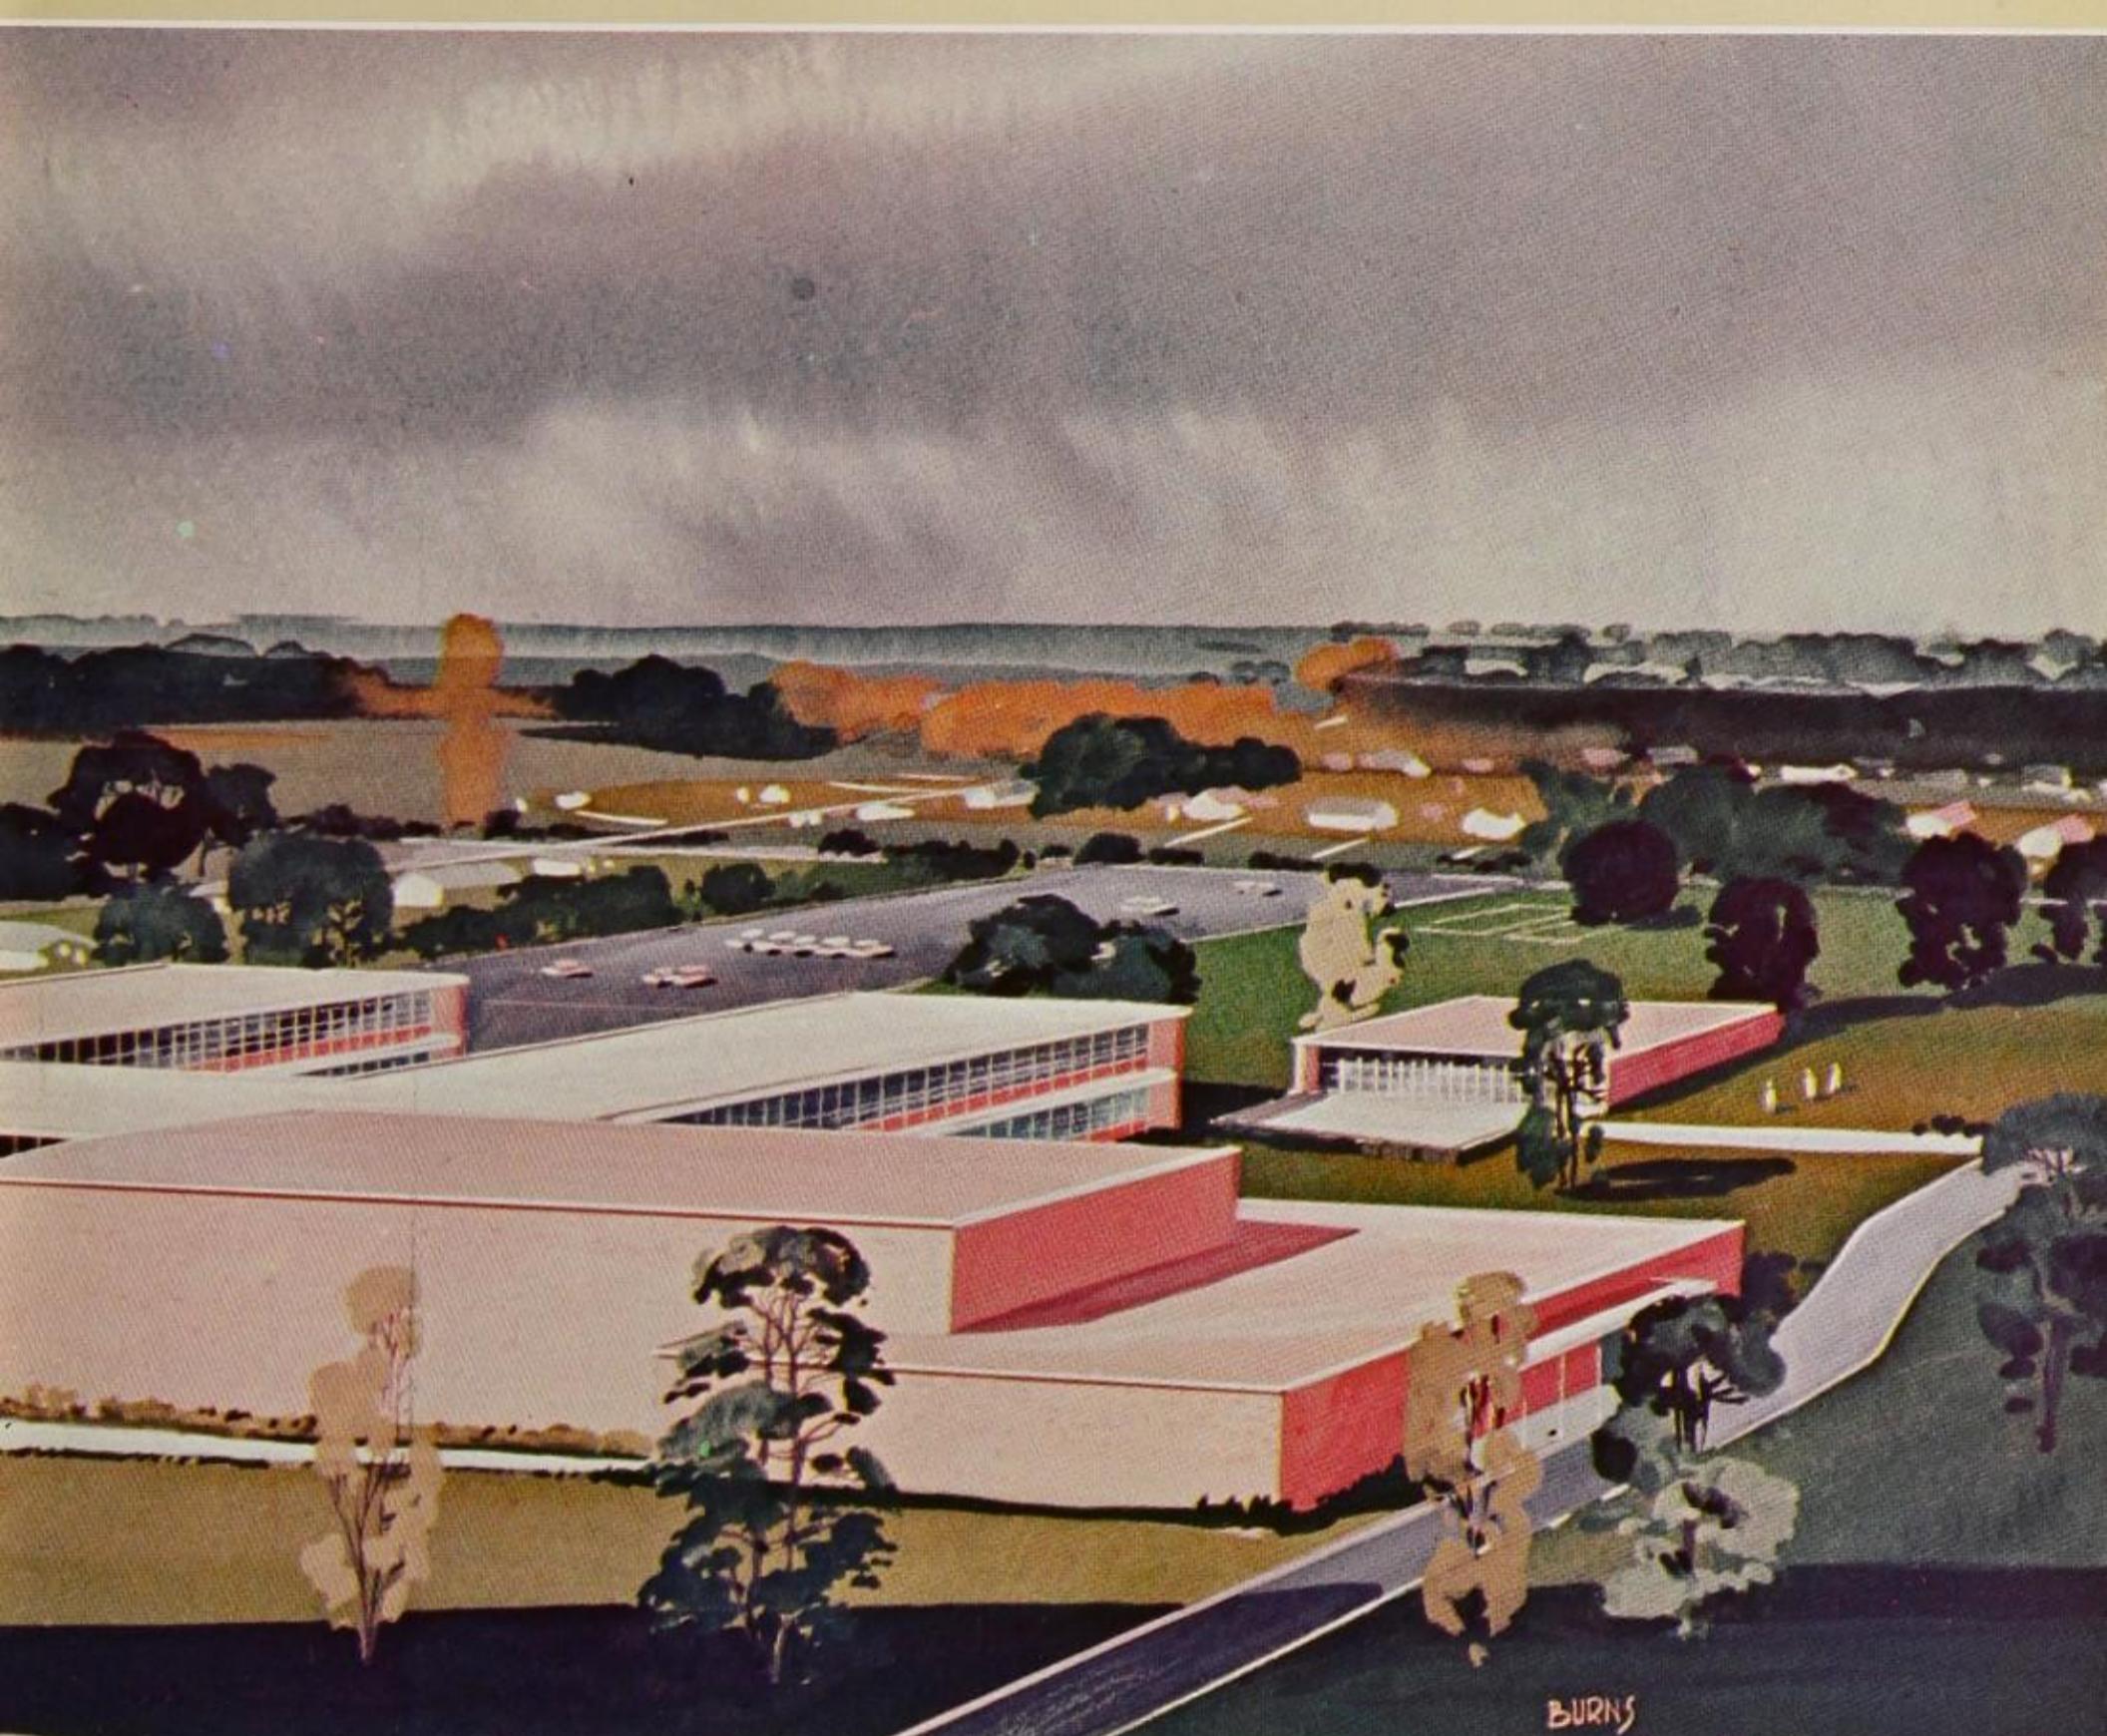

The final expansion of Denton Senior High has been completed after ten years of waiting. The opportunities placed before the Student Body are incomparable to any other time in the school's history. As in any school, the best measure of the opportunities is the facilities.

Student Life Widens

Denton High is a school well equipped to handle 1206 students in both curriculum and extra activities. The regular classrooms, specialized laboratories, as well as extensive equipment provided for the athletic department, are all excellent tools for learning.

All of these facilities challenge the student attending Denton High School and expand his participation in school activities.

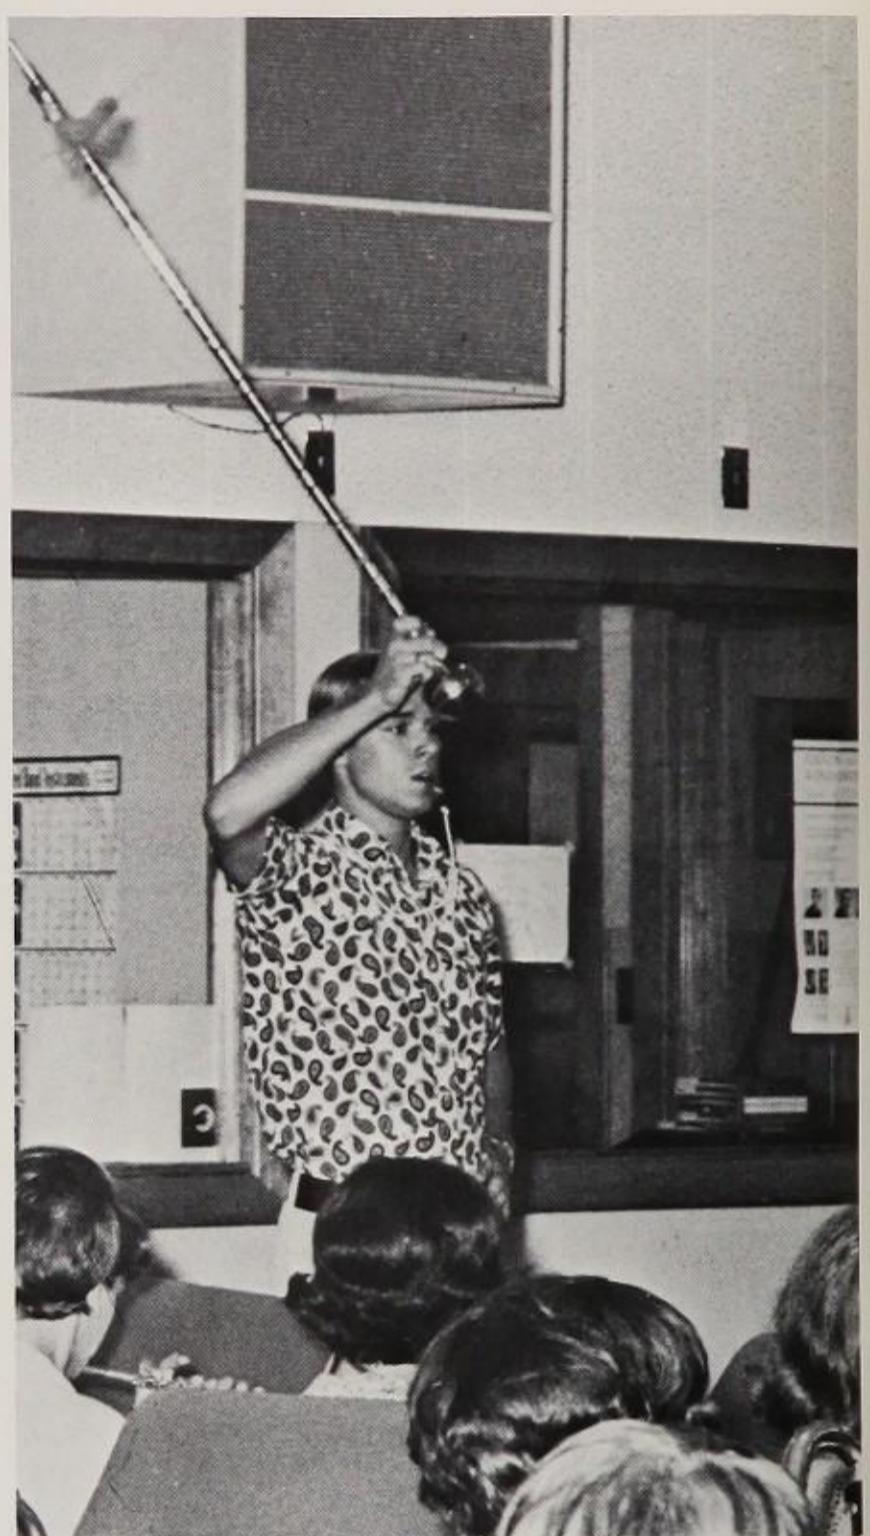

With Expanded Facilities

Preparation for the New Year

Members of the Bronco football team attend daily practices during the summer. Drills and scrimmages improve each individual's skill while also sharpening the entire team's ability.

Newly elected drum major, Mike Ellis, directs a pre-school rehearsal which helps the band prepare music for pep rallies and football games.

Each year several Bronco staff members attend the A&M workshop to receive instruction and to plan the yearbook. Janet Ferguson, Business Manager; Janice Weibel, Editor; and Karen Friedsam, Associate Editor; discuss the theme during an afternoon work session.

Begins With Summer Activities

Registration Day Introduces

Vicki Adams cries "Help!" as she, Charlotte Buchanan, Mark Thomas and Ann Boyd compare schedules.

"Old-timers," Linda Wiles and David Snow, are puzzled by the new advisory changes.

Mr. McNeely, the new principal, gives a sneak preview of his new rules, regulations and changes.

The large class of bewildered sophomores wander into the opening assembly on registration day.

Challenges for School Year

This is the first year students have attended classes on registration day, and through the rush Jackie Reynolds has found time to relax and meet her other classmates.

Registration day marks the beginning of the school year and the beginning of annual sales. Mary Robertson fills out a receipt for Dona Smith while Johnny Estes, Gary Tonn and Mike Mordecai wait their turn.

Many problems can arise with a single schedule change. Susan Stott is discovering this as Mrs. Dibble rearranges classes that Susan finds dissatisfying.

D.H.S. Returns to Vigorous

Locker fees and registration cards must be taken care of on the first day of school and Mr. Favors is always capable of handling the busy schedule.

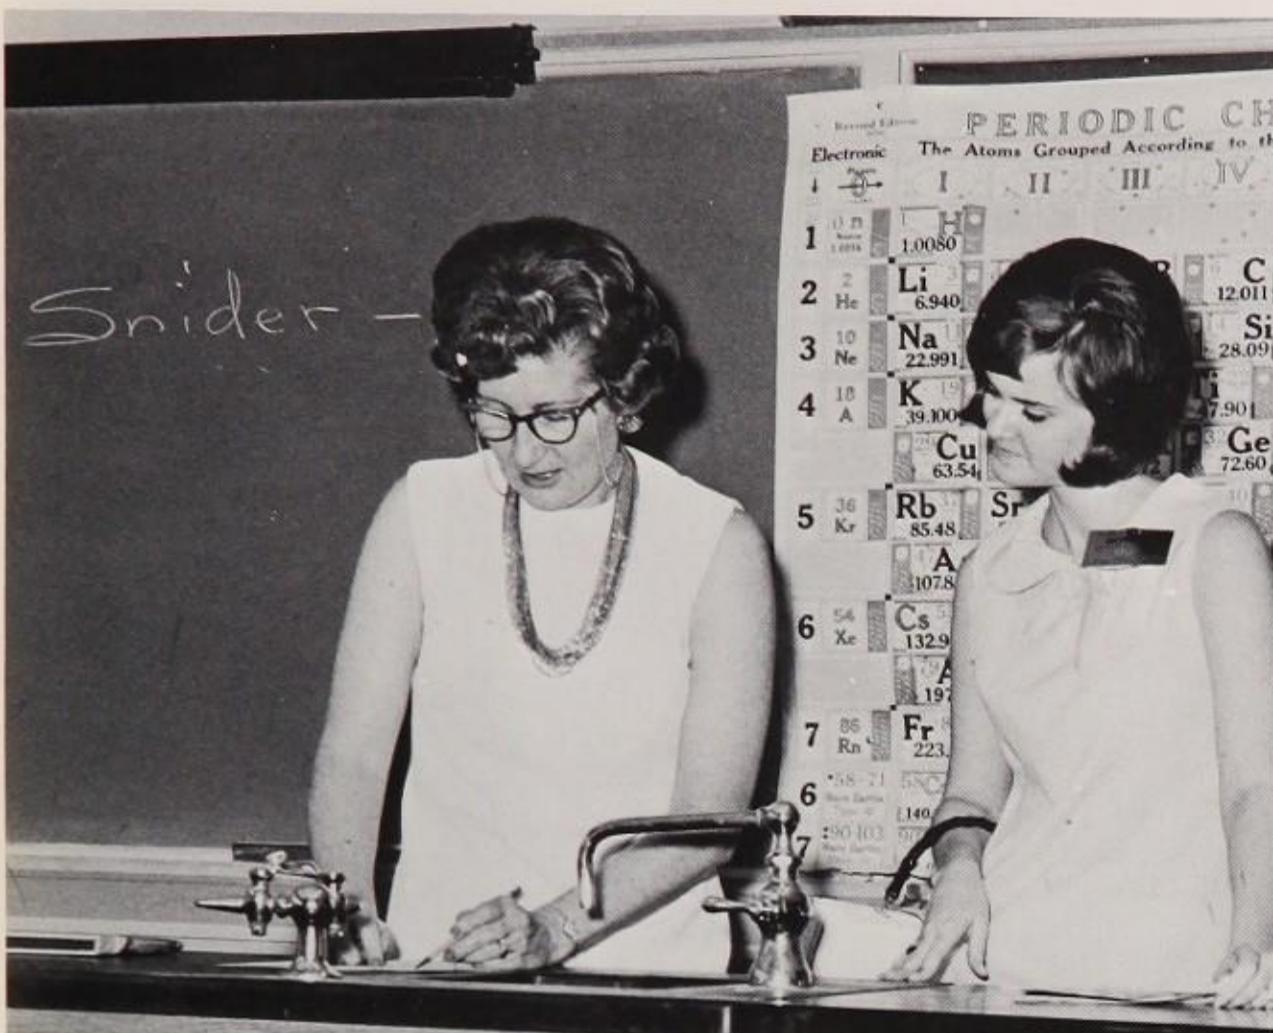

Finding new advisors on registration day is confusing to everyone, but sophomores Roy Christian and Charles Rainey enlist the aid of Mr. Hyman to solve their problems.

Friends, Becky Boynton and Betty Porter, look forward to registration day as it gives them a time to discuss the exciting events of the summer.

Life on Registration Day

While checking schedules for mistakes, Mrs. Snider comments that this registration is busier than usual. Peggy Ware nods her agreement as she presents her own problems for correction.

Darby Barrow indicates her amazement as Karen White shows her anxiety at the thought of a schedule change.

First Day Concludes With Howdy Dance

Gerard Lowrey and Margaret Buntyn, Mr. and Miss Howdy, enjoy a fast dance at the Howdy party. They were chosen by the faculty sponsors for capturing the spirit of the party and contributing to the fun-filled atmosphere.

A good beat is shared by Darby Barrow and Susan Serur, who dance with a lively spirit to one of the songs performed by the "Sleepwalkers" the band that played the second half of the party.

The Howdy Dance was highlighted with good music supplied by the "G's." The liveliness of the music was contributed by drummer Mike Green.

Pep Rallies Display Support for Broncos

Mrs. Kamman and Mrs. Connell enjoy the antics of Beverly Griffin and Robert Kelly as they form the first letter to begin the "Bronco-Spell-Out."

Pep Club members Judy Jones, Peggy Kamp, Pam Tarrant, Mira Steadman and the Bronco Cheerleaders clap with enthusiasm as the members of the skit perform in slow motion the last football practice of the season.

The other "Cheerleaders" in the pep rally before the Broncos met Sherman were Martha Whalert and Andrew Rekey. They shake their "pom-poms" to help bring the sophomores to an enthusiastic climax during "Battle Cry".

New Activities Increase Enjoyment of

As the flashlight parade progresses down the street to the music of the band, Daniel Stanley, Charlotte Shepard, Pam Redden, and Ray Drenner join in the march to the bonfire and later to the B-team game.

With the completion of the stairway decorations, Ann Whitson and Vicki Adams smile in anticipation of the Homecoming events approaching.

"Prof" Calhoun revives many memories of his past experiences during his years from 1918 to 1956 as the principal of D.H.S. He stands beside Mr. McNeely as the student body and exes conclude a long standing ovation.

the Traditional Homecoming Week

Michael Hamilton, Cathy Guditus, Jane Brittan and Kenny Yarbarough anxiously receive plates of Bar-B-Q from the Underwood caterer as other members of the line move out into the cafeteria to find seats. The Bar-B-Q was held to honor the exes returning to their high school during the Homecoming week.

Paul E. Baker muses over the changes that have taken place in his Alma Mater since he graduated in 1912 as Cathy Bradshaw and Donna Fowler relate the homecoming festivities planned for the evening.

The Serenaders, a musical group from TWU under the direction of Mr. Little, entertain the audience with the "South of the Border" style of the Tijuana Brass. Mr. Little leads a rollicking version of "Tijuana Taxi" with his morochas.

Diligent Planning by Student Council

Cheerleader Kathy Strong asks the student body if Denison is going to win the game. She performs a spectacular jump as the crowd answers with a rousing "No!"

The nominees for Homecoming Queen of 1966 are Cathy Muirhead, Kathy Johanson, Alis Barton, and Phyllis George.

Produces Successful Celebration

Traditionally, the lockers of the football boys, cheerleaders and Homecoming queen nominees are decorated as part of the preparation for the activities. Pam Tarrant and Ann Whitson hang crepe paper on the locker of cheerleader and nominee Alis Barton.

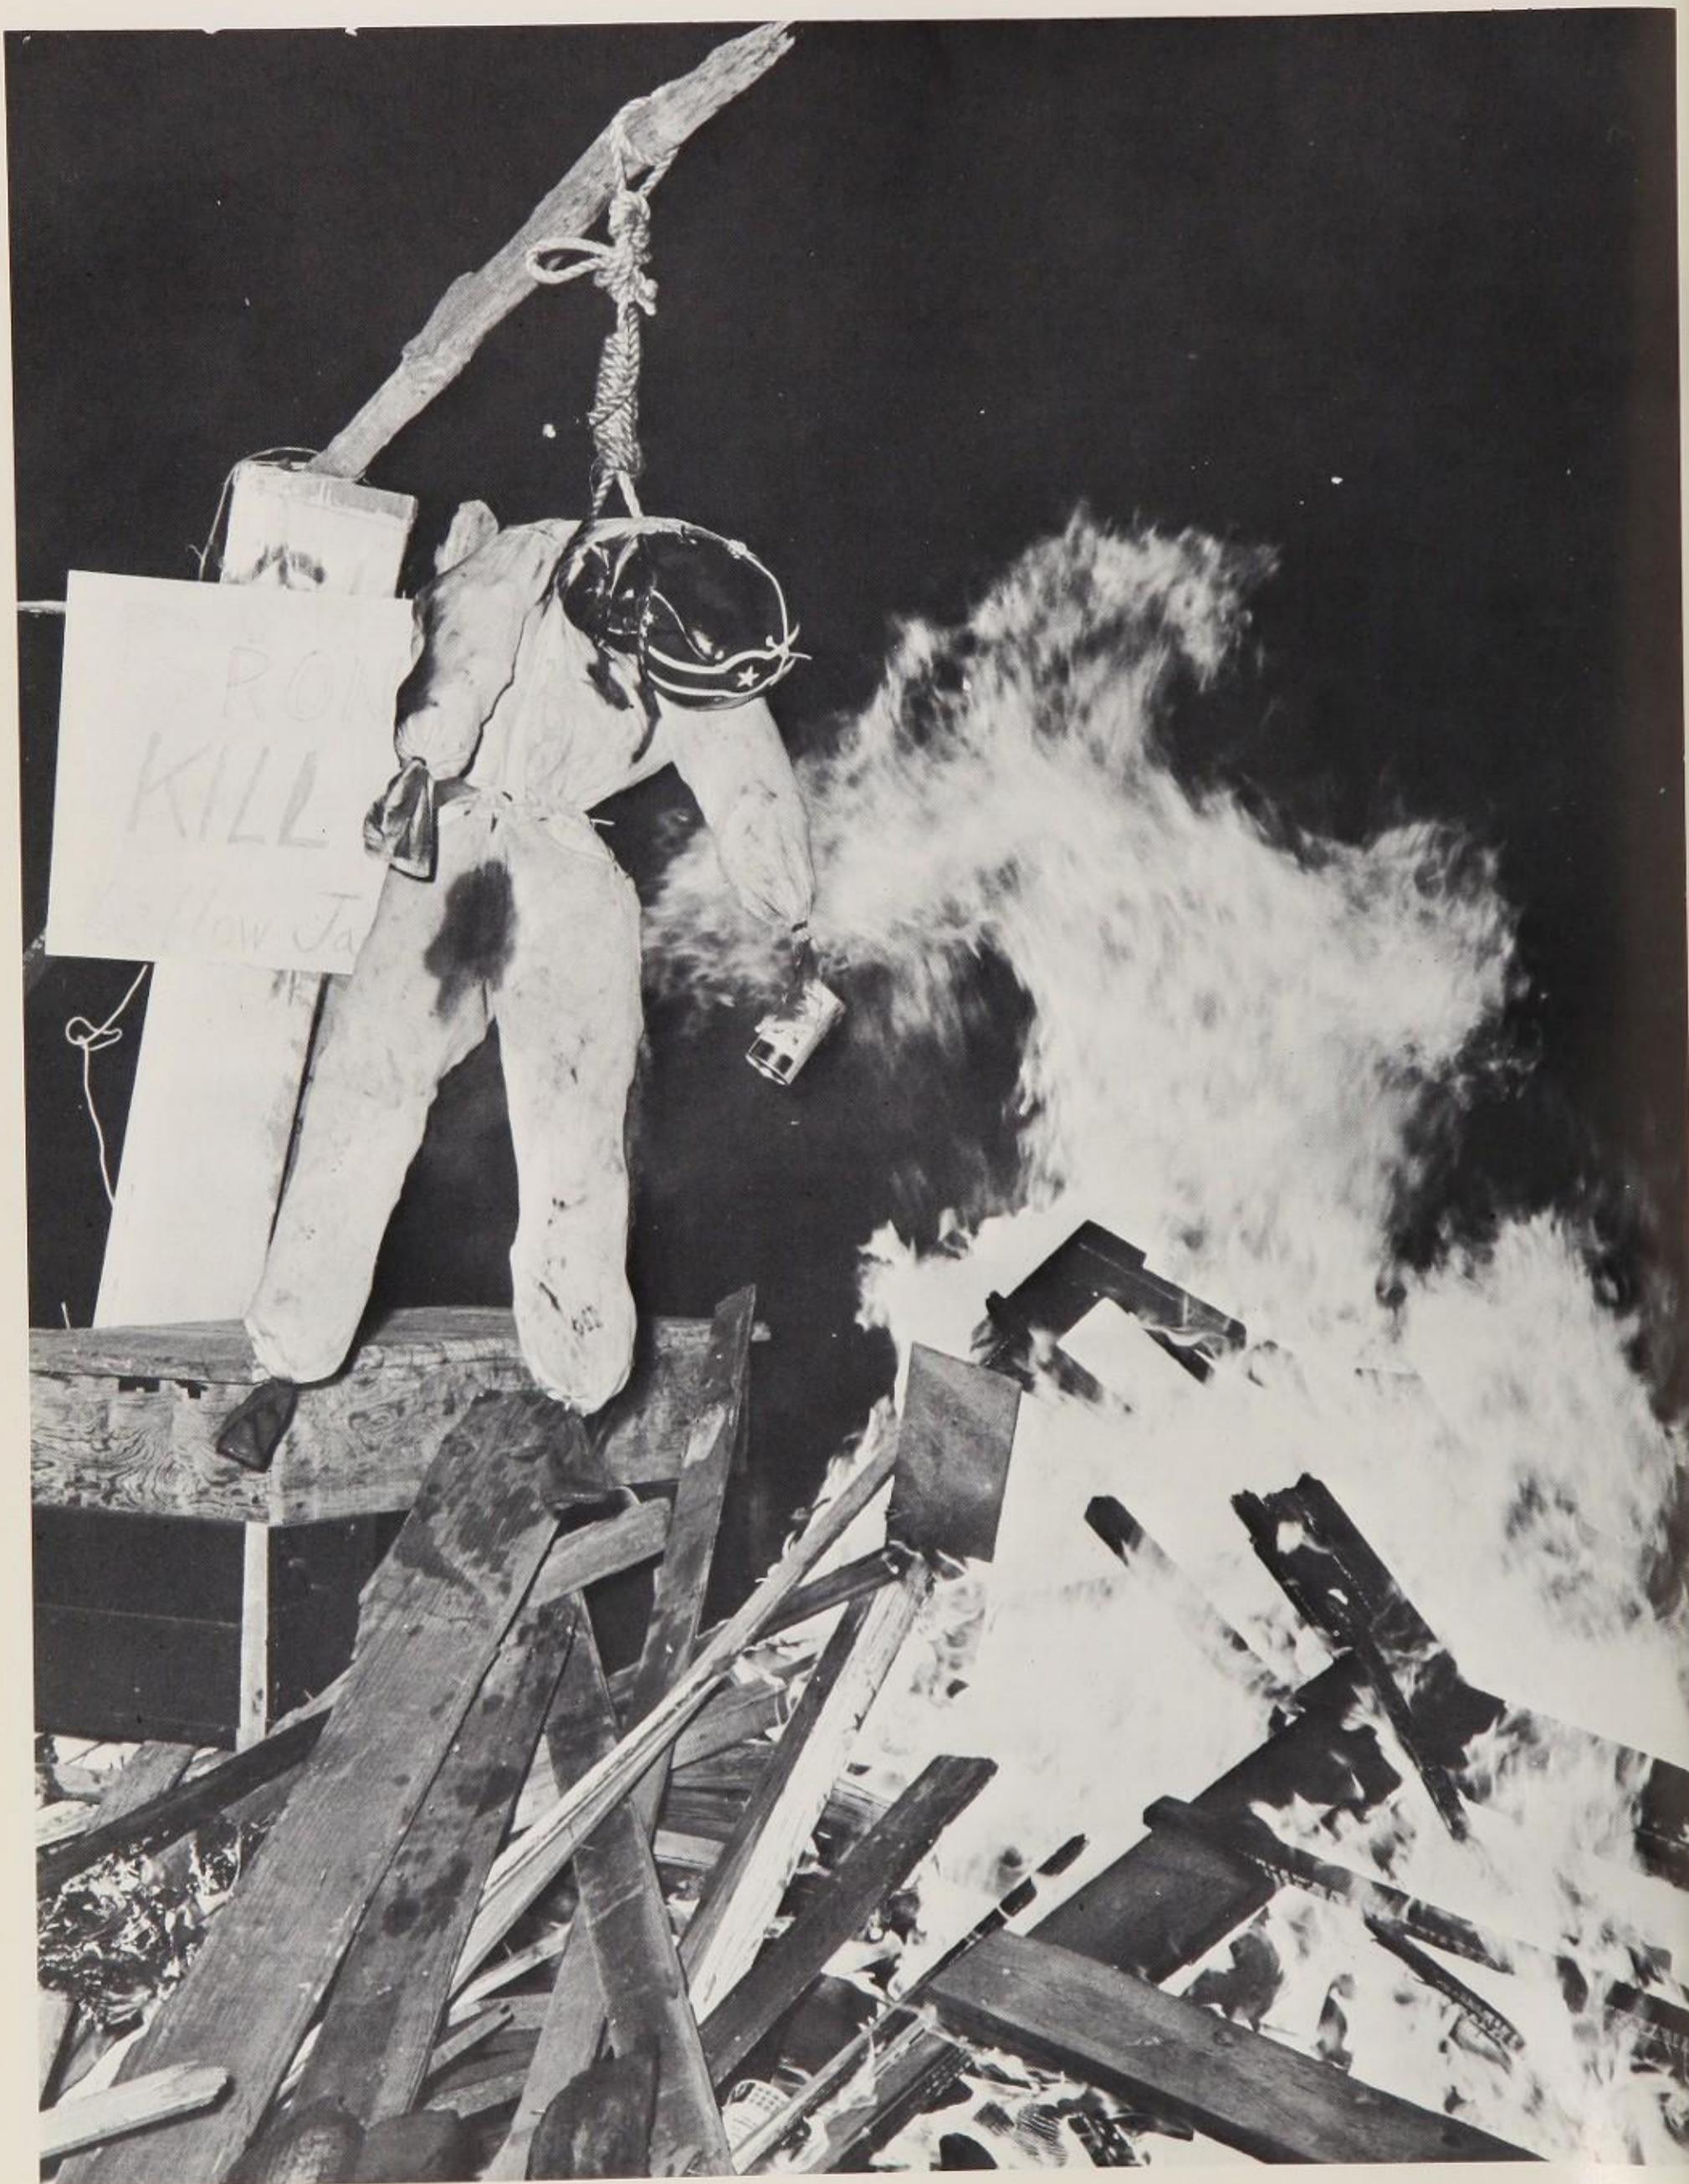

After dancing to a fast pace all evening, Margaret Dickson, Ricky Barrett, Kathy Strong, and Don Beebe welcome a slow dance which proves to be restful.

B-team cheerleaders, Connie Thompson and Pam Stephens lend a hand toward boosting spirit while marching in the flashlight parade.

Bonfire and Homecoming Queen Presentation

are Highlights of Fast Paced Week

Phyllis George and Alis Barton jump triumphantly, proving their spirit and leading others in backing the Broncos.

Nominees Are Presented as "My Favorite Toys"

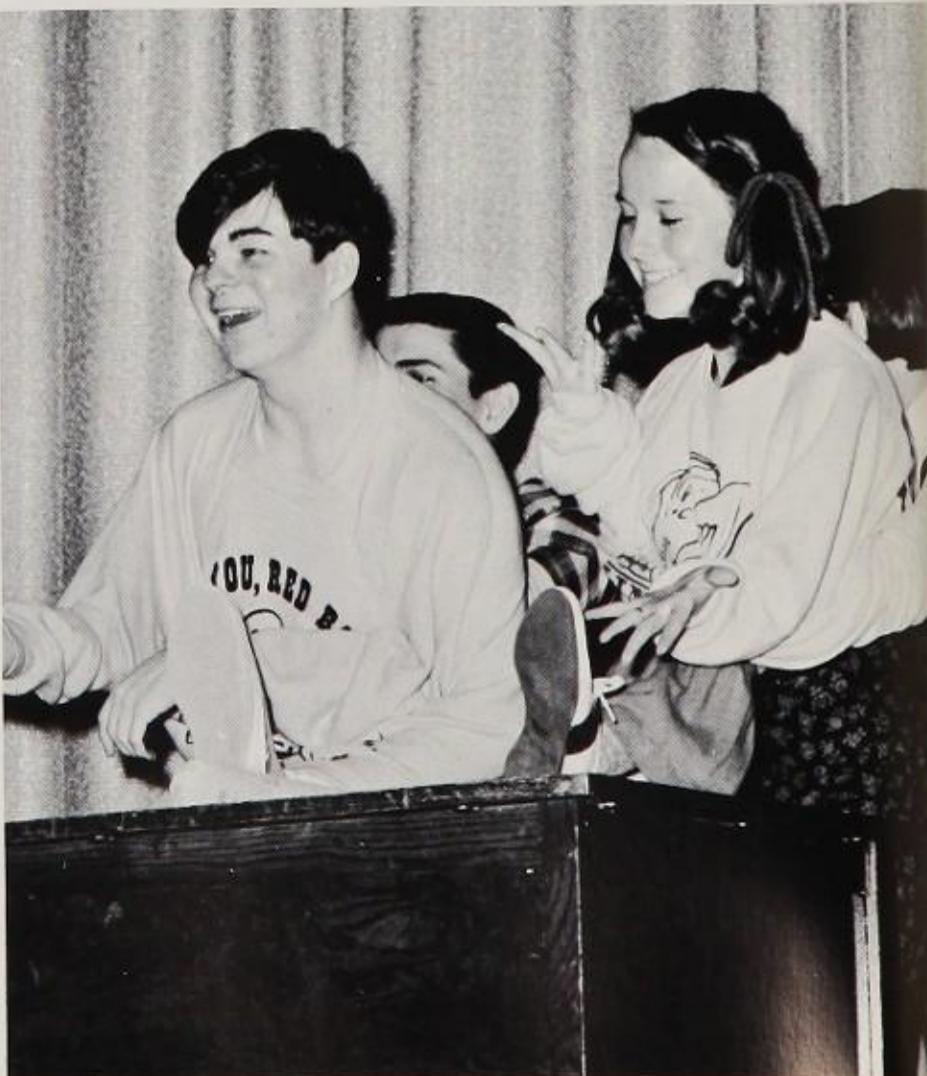

"Chatty Cathy," alias Phyllis George, smiles delightfully as "Cheerful Tearful" Alis Barton laughs hysterically when Beverly Griffin pulls her strings.

The outstanding part of the campaign that the favorite nominees hold each year before the final election is the favorite's assembly. For the first time, a limited cast of eight, a boy and girl from each of the four categories, presented the three skits. This year's skits were Kris Kringle's Christmas Crisis, first place; My Favorite Toys, second place; and Jerry's Dairy, third place.

"Super Squirrel" Johnny Eberly scowls ferociously in the background while Beverly Griffin listens to the pleas of "Poly Parrot" Andrew Rekey to clean his cage.

"Rat-a-tat, rat-a-tat, rat-a-tat-tat!" Puppets, Jim Bays and Kathy Nichols, entertain everyone with their comical antics accompanied by Jim Morris and Nancy Nelson.

"Jerry's Dairy" is Setting for Western Skit

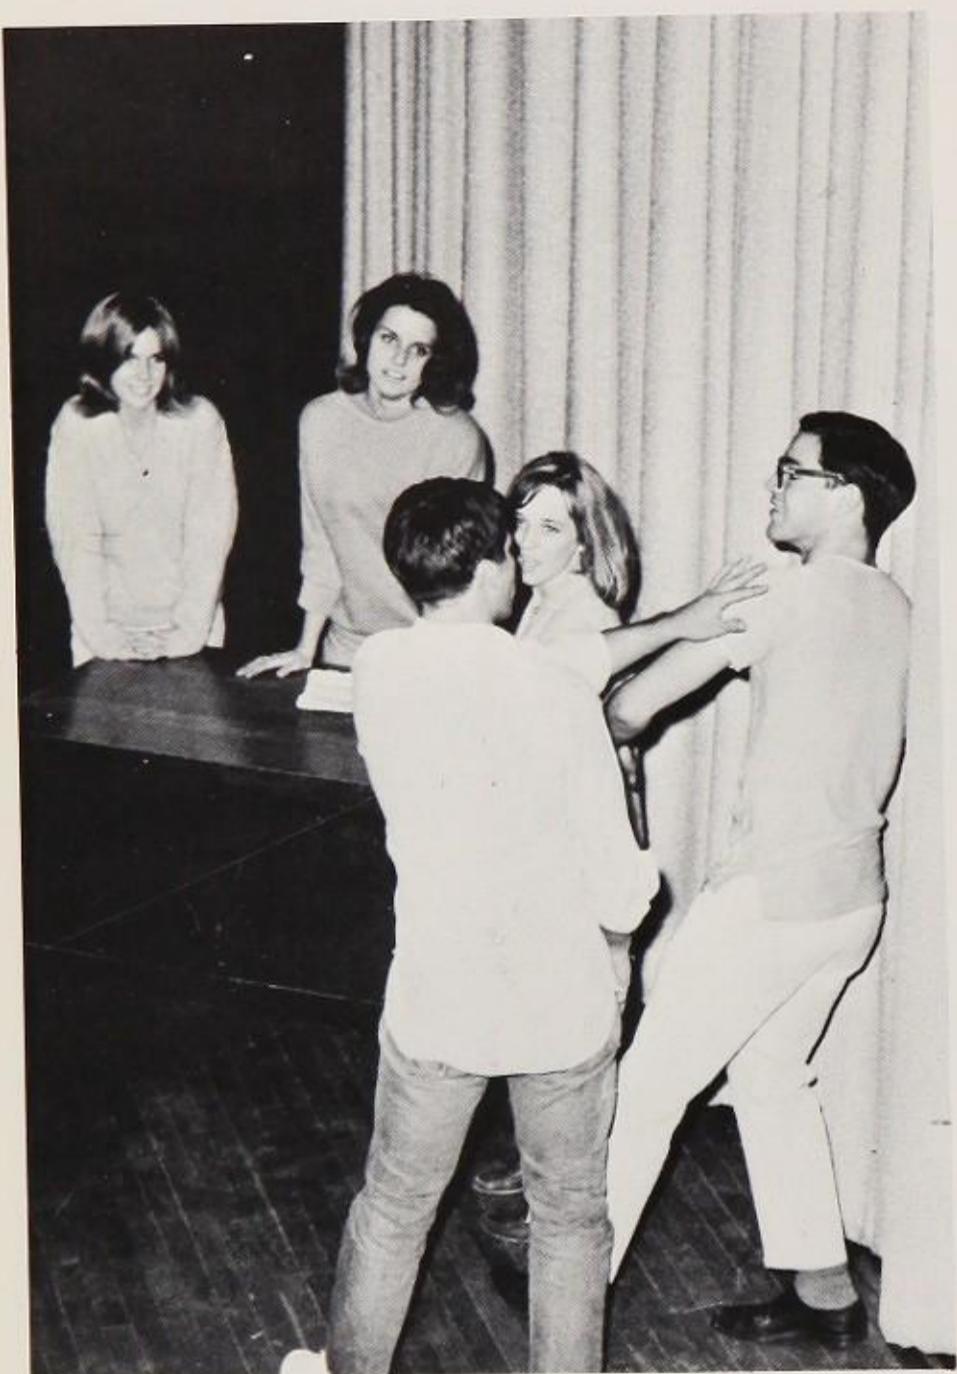

While resting his trusty crutches, Sheriff "Hop-a-long" Walker reaches for his drink of straight buttermilk from Jerry Riddle as "shine-boy", Lynn Yarbrough polishes his boots.

Every saloon must have dance-hall girls, and Jerry's Dairy is no exception. "Black Bart" Mike Noble, and the sheriff, David Walker, express their admiration to the dancers, Kathy Johanson, and Connie Thompson, for the performance of the Can-can.

Sizzling Sagebrush Sally," Mira Steadman, terrifies the local patrons of Jerry's Dairy as she enters. Charles Thompson, Frank Pooler, and Hank Clanton cower under the table while Harold McFarling trembles in his chair knowing that "Black Bart" must be approaching.

Kris Kringle's Christmas Crisis Wins 1st Place

The night before the assembly all of the groups performed in a dress rehearsal. Molly Merritt, Cathy Muirhead, and Jan Nichols watch as Randy Groves helps Dan Pearce learn how he is expected to fall.

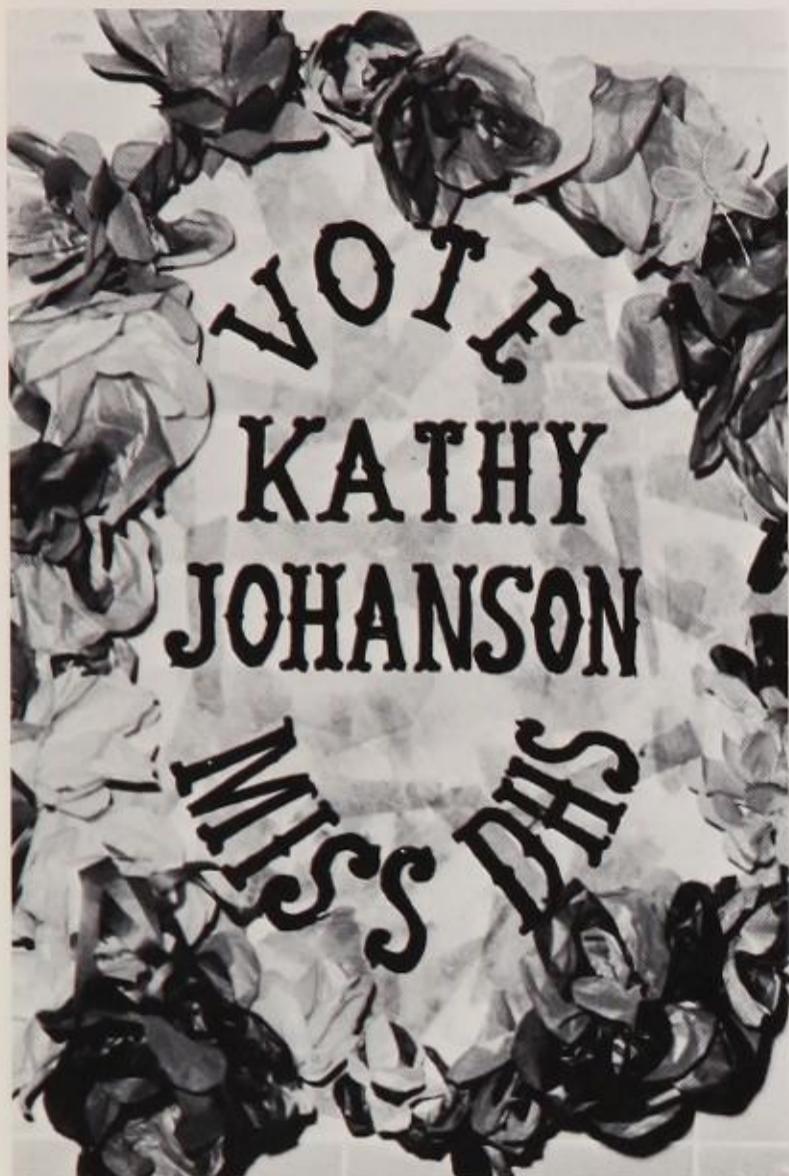

Chief of Police, Cathy Muirhead, with her trusty "blood-hound" utilizes all her detective skills as she captures Jan Nichols and Dan Pearce, fugitives from justice.

"Santa Claus", Pam Tarrant, ends the skit by presenting each placard. Molly Merritt and Scott Hutchison receive their "presents" from St. Nicholas.

Christmas Formal Product of Hours

Friday night before the Christmas formal most Denton High students are celebrating the first day of the holidays and preparing for the party on Saturday. However, the students who volunteered to assist Mrs. Sherrill with the gym devote Friday night and Saturday morning to decorating. All of the glitter and sparkle of the formal is the product of the diligent planning and cooperation of Mrs. Sherrill and the students.

Stapling each of the many streamers that form the canopy is the job of Pat Patrick. Diligent work by all of the people who assisted Mrs. Sherrill helped to produce the beautiful Christmas decorations at the formal.

Putting all of the colored napkins into the frame and stringing lights on the tree are traditional duties for those who decorate the gym. Karen Friedsam finishes adjusting the lights and prepares to check for holes in the tree which requires more colored napkins.

of Planning and Preparation

Don Roberson checks to see that the satellite is balanced while Debbie Simmons and Rhonda Ann Sherrill hang snowflakes around it.

Each year Mrs. Sherrill is in charge of decorating the gym for the formal. While holding one of the ropes used to balance the canopy, she considers how much easier the canopy is to make since she received the metal frame.

Robert Kelly carefully balances himself on the scaffold as he adjusts a snowflake. Other students watch warily, hoping that Robert can complete the job without a mishap.

Traditional Presentation of Alis Barton, Jim Bays, Mira Steadman, Jerry Riddle, Dan Pearce and Johnny Eberly wait to be introduced as favorite nominees. Everyone at the party looks forward to the announcement of the favorites which is traditionally the highlight of the evening.

Mira Steadman and Pam Tarrant applaud one of the announcements as they wait, wondering if either of them will be senior class favorite.

The couples at the party enjoyed each song that the Bassmen performed. The fast dances as well as the slow ones proved to be very popular among the dancers.

Favorites Highlights Christmas Formal

Prissy Nunley and Ernie McCray are among the couples who enjoy a slow dance. The change of tempo by the band was especially appreciated by the dancers toward the end of the evening.

J.C.L. Slave Sale Combines Modern A

Paying for a slave can become a major problem when modern and ancient methods of dress are combined. Rick Allenbrand diligently searches for change as Gina Kinard and Gloria Klint eye the procedure curiously.

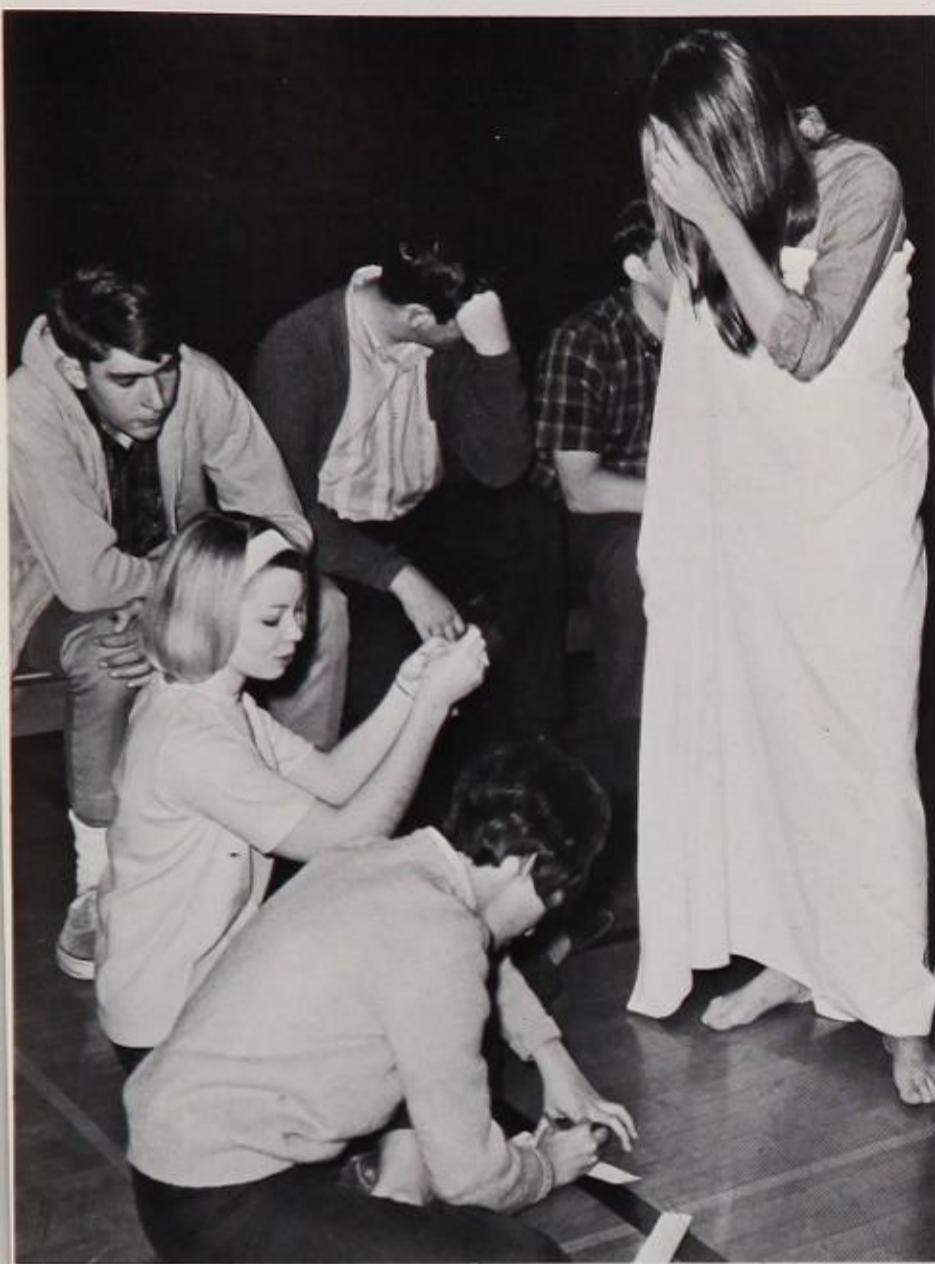

At the slave sale Jack Browder and Jane Self discover that flying planes is an excellent way to pass the time while other slaves are being auctioned off.

"What will you offer for this slave?" is the repeated call of an auctioneer. As the tension rises, President Bill Brinkman indicates which slaves will go on the auction block next.

And Ancient Methods of Trade

Kathy Nichols bows her head with respect for her new master, Crispin Miller, as Candy Cook and Gloria Klint complete the transaction for the sale.

Prospective slaves become quite nervous under the critical scrutiny of purchasers after watching other servants perform unbelievable tasks for their cruel masters.

aves, Gina Kinard, Karen White, Vicki Rummell, and Connie Thompson, revert back to their childhood days as they play "Ring-around-the-Roses" to the pleasure of their masters.

Musical Talents Displayed by Students

Phyllis George demonstrates her talent to the audience by playing "Pink Panther." The other number she performed was "Tea for Two."

Margaret Durrence, Billy Black, Ruth Ottman and Crispin Miller formed a string quartet which played for the student body.

David Hendricks, Cindy Kittrell, Kay Kittrell, Vicki Thomas and Earl Nuckles comprise the Folksingers a group which performed during the talent show. They sang "All My Trials." Vicki Thomas sang a song which she had written called "God's Love."

The Extreme 5, Sandy Bilyeu, Dennis Forester, Mickey Kerr, Larry Coffin and John Gale do a number by the "Animals."

Industrious Seniors and Parents

Ruth Lowrey checks with Stephen and Stanley to see if they would like more pancakes or milk while their mother Mrs. Larry Simmons enjoys watching her sons. Many families attended the pancake supper to demonstrate their support of the D.H.S. students.

Sponsor Pancake Supper to Raise Funds

Phyllis George provided the musical entertainment at Newton Rayzor. Several people pause to listen as she plays an especially pretty song.

Melody Specht and Doug Anderson tackle the big clean-up job after the pancake supper. Members of the final work shift worked diligently until the cafeteria was clean.

All of the seniors work very hard to make the evening a success. Cathy Muirhead watches the tables to see if anyone needs more pancakes or coffee while Sandy Sackett serves seconds to some of the visitors. Susan Burke receives more coffee from Susan Lewis so that she may offer more refills.

Abundance of Pancakes Devoured

Mr. Mason supervises as people progress through the serving lines. Parents and teachers support helped to organize the pancake supper.

Because of the large number of people who attended, seniors were kept busy resetting the tables. Robert Rawley, Judy Cartwright and Deborah Keas place new napkins and silverware on the table.

Mrs. Yarbrough relates to Mr. Laney some of the interesting incidents that have occurred during the pancake supper as she refills one of the numerous syrup bottles.

By Students and Community

Seniors who were not waiting tables often took advantage of the time by enjoying some of the pancakes. Robert Harrison finishes a meal as Ruth Lowrey and Joe Mahaney prepare to reset his place.

Billy Jack Franklin and Jimmy Ballard make a trip to the kitchen with some dirty dishes.

Mrs. Fain, Dr. Nunley and Mr. Fain utilize their cooking skills in preparing some of the hundreds of pancakes that were served during the evening. Many of the community business assisted the seniors by providing necessary supplies.

Polished Performance of "Our Hearts Were Young

The exhilaration felt by an actor after putting himself entirely into a performance is realized in the final moment of praise. At the end of each performance the cast presents itself for a final round of applause.

Chaos seems to follow Emily, Brenda Frost, as evidenced in this scene from "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Sandy Bilyeu, Sammy Gallo, Bobby Davis and Daniel Stanley are partners in the confusion.

Margie Swanson offers no help to Sandy Bilyeu and Sammy Gallo as they soon begin to realize that it is not easy to disguise measles.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" Presented by Drama Students

Sammy Gallo asks Margie Swanson how she knew he was going to kiss her when he didn't know it himself.

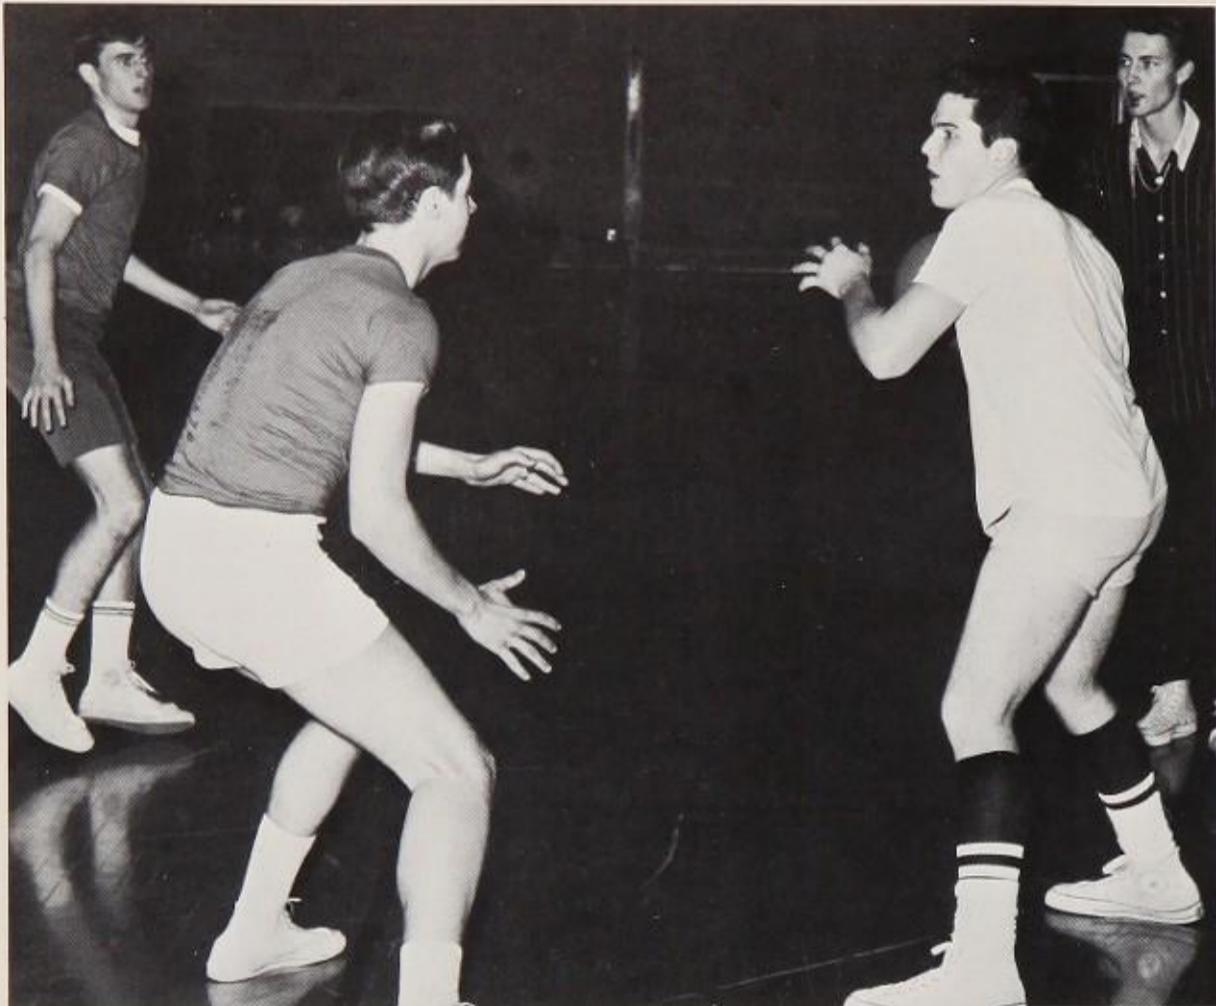

Beverly Griffin artistically applies makeup to Sammy Gallo before the beginning of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." The play was a major success for the drama classes.

Margie Swanson attempts to eat a piece of cake in order to prove that her sedatives were not too strong. Dan Boyd, Brenda Frost, Sandy Bilyeu and Sammy Gallo watch, hoping to be of assistance to Margie.

Detroit Wheels Victorious in Intramural Competition

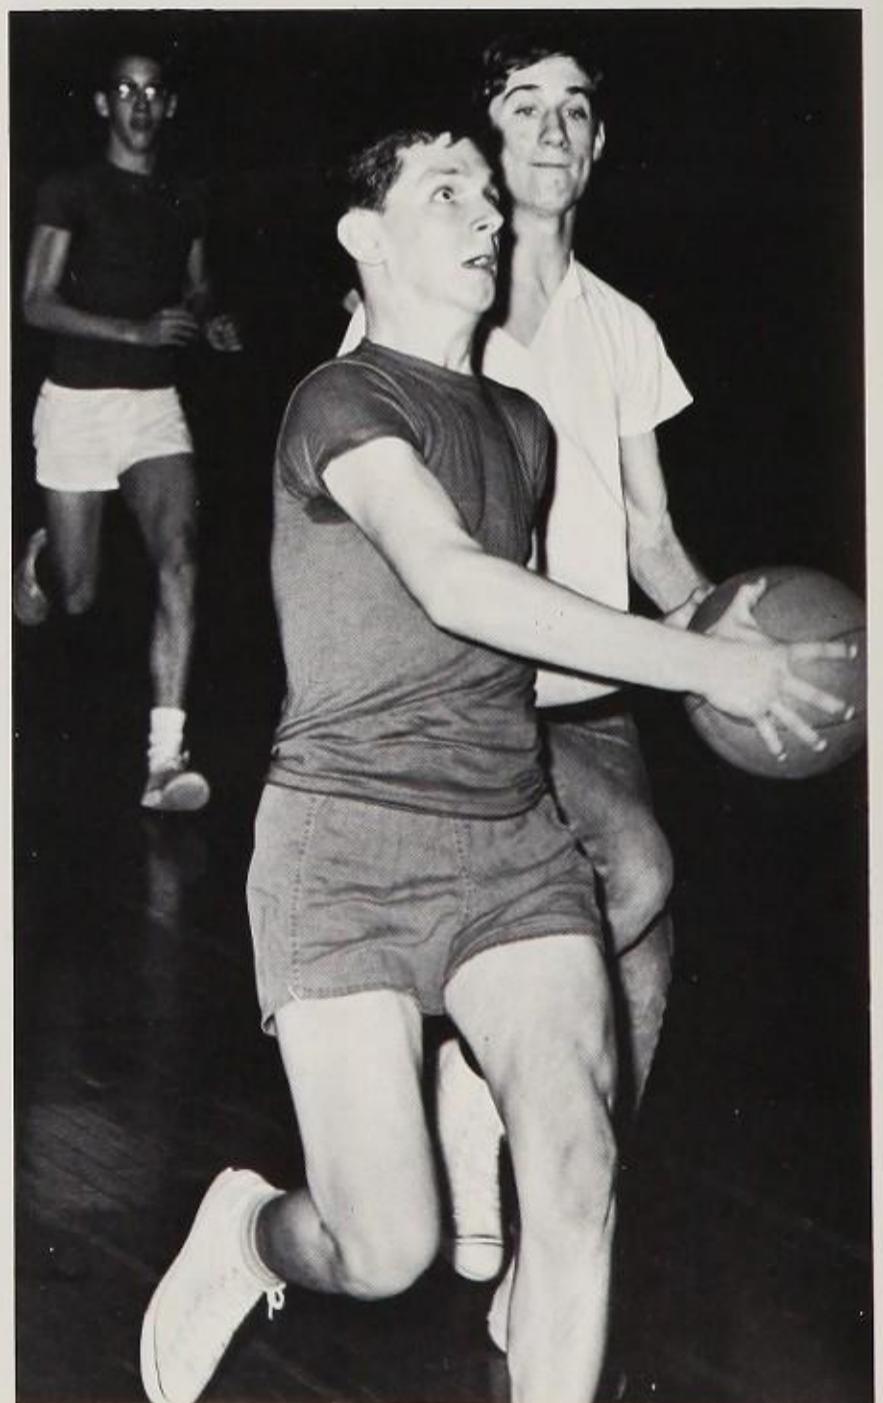

Dark-shirted Jack Brittian gets set for the rebound as Linden Galyon challenges him for it.

Intramural basketball enables the boys who do not participate in the varsity program to play in an organized manner. The games are played each Saturday afternoon between teams in the two leagues. League Champions are found and battle for the Intramural Championship. The pride of each boy is at stake as the teams compete for the respected honor of being the best in the whole program. This year the Detroit Wheels and the Ardvaarks battled for the intramural title. The Wheels proved to be too rough for the Ardvaarks and overpowered them 59-41.

Wheels Keith Bass and Mike McMahan guard Linden Galyon closely as he looks for a teammate to pass to.

Wheel Bill McMath drives in for a layup with Ardvaark Sammy Gallo in hot pursuit.

Classroom Activities Encompass Entire School

Students with special talents are given an opportunity to develop them in certain classes such as art, crafts and choir. Marilyn Massey and Melody Spetch work with pastels and tempera paint during the seventh period art class.

Before school is dismissed for the Christmas vacation Mrs. Russell and several choir members help to bring the holiday spirit into D.H.S. Interested students join the group in the early morning for caroling.

Sweetheart Presentation Accents

Couples enjoy keeping up with the fast pace provided for them by the Sleepwalkers. Bill Brinkman, Debbie Wintereck, Bill Smith, Marion Lind, Jan Jones and Norman Parrish display their dancing talents.

Andrew Rekey, Nancy Neblett, Meredith Thompson and David Crowley take time out from the dancing to enjoy refreshments.

Chris Stabile and Sharon Lyons are among the many couples who demonstrate dancing ability throughout the evening.

Annual Valentine Dance

One of the highlights of the spring semester is the Valentine Dance. It is sponsored by the Student Council and held in the cafeteria. Decorative hearts hung from the ceiling complementing the background heart. This year the Sleepwalkers performed. Each homeroom nominated one girl; then the top four were chosen as nominees. The final tally was kept a secret. As the outstanding moment of the evening, Connie Tadlock was presented as the 1967 Valentine Sweetheart.

Denton High Students Excel

Mrs. Hall and Bobby Davis receive the National Award for Excellence in Speech from Mr. Bruno Jacob and Mr. Paul Petticrew.

FRED CUTHBERT

Member of the School Orchestra of America

Each year many capable students from D.H.S. receive various awards from competition in several fields. The music departments participate in All-State and All-Region Band, Orchestra and Choir tryouts. This year several other outstanding honors were obtained by students. Fred Cuthbert was selected as a member of the School Orchestra of America. He will tour Europe for one month this summer. Mike Mordcaï was victorious in his race for the office of Lt. Governor of District 8 Key Clubs. He will preside over eight clubs. Louise Wilson was selected as the Outstanding Girl D.E. Student of Area II at the Area Conference. Denton High's chapter of the N.F.L. received an award of special recognition through the Executive Council. The award is for being the outstanding school in the district. It is a very high honor as only 25 out of approximately 1,000 schools become eligible to receive it.

Members of the Girls' Glee Club, the A Cappella Choir and the combined choir classes sing several well known Christmas carols at the end of the assembly. Under Mrs. Russells' direction, the choral department presented a beautiful program.

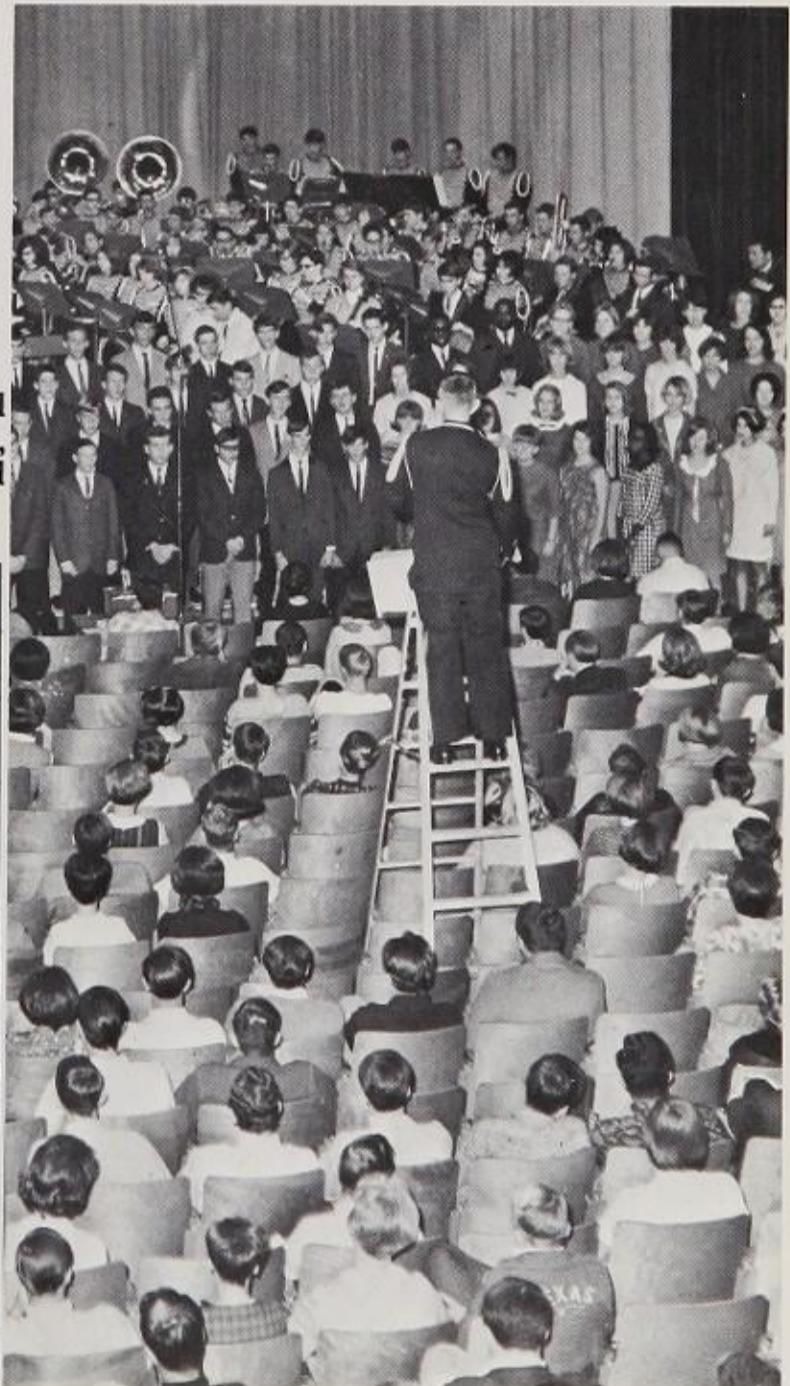

Inspiration to Assemblies

The goal for the choral department has been to buy an organ with the candy sale funds. This year, the dream has been finally realized through the purchase of a new Baldwin organ from the Les Mills studio. During the dedication assembly Mrs. Russell, Mr. Strickland and Mr. McNeely watch as Dale Peters, resident organist at North Texas, demonstrates the versatility of the instrument.

Members of the music department, under the direction of Mr. McMath, perform "From Sea to Shining Sea" during the assembly presented by the band, orchestra and choir.

A special addition to the Christmas program was the performance of an original Christmas composition by Mr. Merrill Ellis. Duke Roberson, David Thomason, Charlotte Buchanan, Sally Harpool, Paula Ellis, Nancy Seitz, Larry Coffin and David Terry harmonize as they sing.

Enthusiastic Students Offer

Feverish excitement overwhelmed every Bronco fan on the return trip from the second Highland Park game. This game kept Denton in the running for the District Championship.

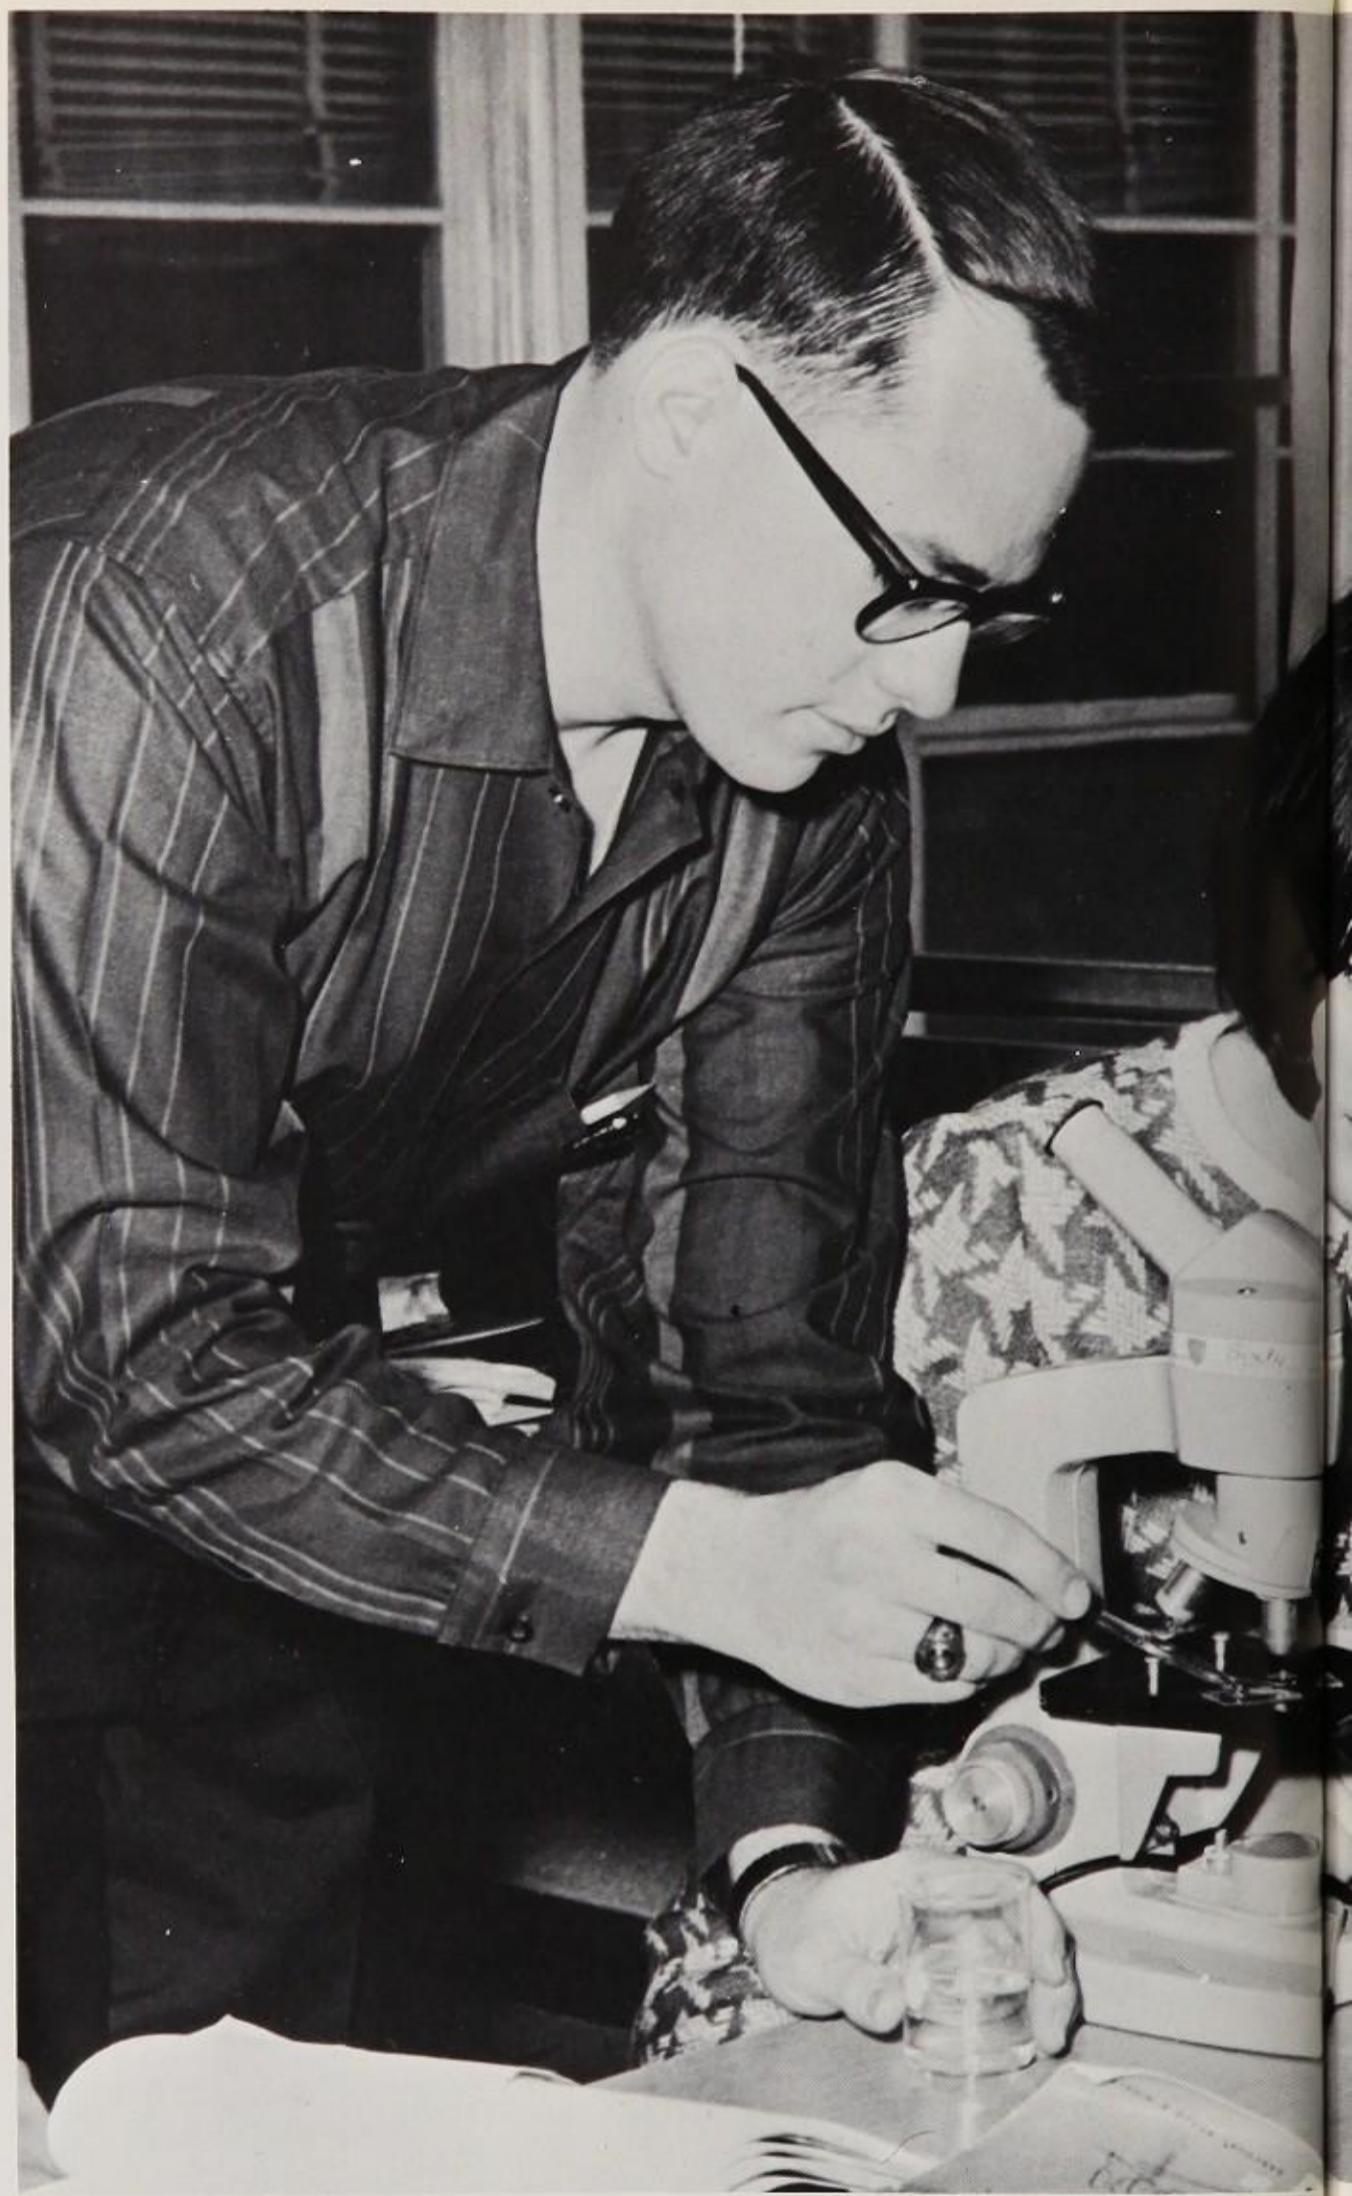

Judy Wylie, Randy Sackett, Elise Durham and Sammy Faris show varied expressions when the game becomes more and more exciting. They hold their breath waiting to see who will be victorious.

As the band plays during a time-out, cheerleaders Phyllis George and Alis Barton lead the Pep Club in the hand motions to the music. The Pep Club and band play an important part in promoting school spirit.

Loyal Support to Broncos

The faces of Vickie Weaver, Linda Wilkinson, and Louise Wilson express their concern for the fate of the Broncos during a crucial game.

PROPERTIES OF THE ELEMENTS

Caliber of Administration

Efficiency of Academic Program Credit

The success of the school programs and the efficiency of the Denton Independent School District is a credit to the dedicated efforts of the School Board. Each month the board meets with Mr. Strickland, the tax collector and the business manager, to discuss finances and to solve any problems that have been presented. The board also controls the expenditures, maintenance and salaries in the public schools.

Administrators Undertake Responsibility to

In his first year as principal of Denton High School, Mr. McNeely has successfully assumed the responsibility of coordinating the administrators, faculty and student body into an organized school system. Devoting time for individual student and faculty consultation has enabled him to meet the unavoidable problems and adjustments facing any new administrator. Keeping the curriculum of Denton High in step with the demands of colleges and vocations. Mr. McNeely has succeeded in executing a needed revision of D.H.S. standards. In addition, he has inexhaustably sought to stimulate a desire for achievement in each student at D.H.S.

Mrs. Gen Zerwer serves as Mr. McNeely's personal secretary in addition to her duties with the financial transactions. She must keep an up-to-date budget and a special account for each club and class. She also sends out all transcripts and keeps a permanent record of each student's grades.

Establish New Era at DHS

As assistant principal and athletic director, Mr. Spears coordinates all of the school's sporting events. He promotes student support of the Broncos, sells tickets to all games and sets up the dates on which the teams will play. Another job which he fulfills is issuing tardy excuses, early dismissals and absence slips. It is his duty to take any disciplinary actions needed during the school day.

Mrs. Ann Robertson serves as attendance clerk at Denton High. She records the absentees and keeps an accurate record of attendance for the state. Mrs. Robertson is also available to aid students with personal problems.

Position Added to Administrative Staff

In order to handle all of the federal programs impacted in the Denton school system, a new position was created. In the position of Administrative Assistant, MR. JOHN GUYER serves as Mr. Strickland's assistant and is in charge of any governmental programs.

Taking care of all the problems involving finances in the Denton Independent School District is the duty of MR. CRILLON PAYNE. In his job as Business Manager, he carefully supervises and records all costs and expenditures concerning the Denton school system.

Assisting Mr. Payne are the capable secretaries who help make possible the great efficiency of the Business Office. They keep accurate accounts and record all transactions and keep accurate files to simplify the complicated business procedures of a school administration. Standing: Mrs. Dorothy Brooks, Mrs. Nancy Boren. Seated: Mrs. Vickey Foster, Miss Alta Frances, Mrs. Carol Ridens.

and Activity into Rewarding Year

Organizing the student body to work cooperatively and to work well with the faculty and administration is a basic purpose of the Student Council. Intramural sports, the Howdy Dance, Teacher Appreciation Week, Homecoming and the Valentine Dance are only a few of the activities planned by the Student Council. This year an executive council consisting of the officers, class representatives, and class presidents has been formed to preview future plans. Projects include a magazine sale, Swipe sale, and the possibility of adopting a foreign orphan.

With the advent of new methods and advanced technology, it is necessary that the Future Farmers of America keep abreast with new developments. The Denton High School chapter is doing just this through its organized program. Boys interested in farming are urged to participate in group and individual activities which further agricultural development and aid in community leadership.

Challenge Confronting Future Farmers

Caring for a colt is a far more difficult task than simply supplying nourishment and shelter. Ken Smith learns the importance of gentle grooming and diligent attention as he brushes his prize colt.

Raising livestock is a profitable and rewarding profession and the experience Joe Powell gains now will be of vast importance to him later as a large ranch owner and cattle breeder.

Farm technology is a complicated vocational study. Don Rollins and Pat Mays discover the extensive application of welding and metal craft in the field of agriculture.

Experience Develops Interest in Drama

Denton High School's Dramatics class offers the actual experience of acting, directing and producing plays. Dramatic students attempt to gain poise and self-assurance and to formulate an appreciation for the theatre. These students work long hours to provide such entertainment as "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" and "The Madwoman of Chaillot" for public presentation.

Support

Helping to enrich school spirit and encourage the students to attend all Bronco games are major objectives of the Pep Club. Interested girls with acceptable scholastic requirements are eligible to join the organization. The Pep Club, the largest of all D.H.S. organizations, sits in formation at the games and the pep rallies. Together with the cheerleaders, the girls travel in school buses to all of the out-of-town games. Always full of enthusiasm, the girls play a major part in keeping school spirit at its maximum standard.

D.E. Receives Recognition

Working half of a day in one of Denton's businesses helps to train Distributive Education students for future employment. Discussions in class anticipate the problems a senior may face while working in a distributing or marketing job. A Candy Sale and an Employer-Employee Banquet are annual projects. Participation in area and state contests are also important to the club. The experience gained by the individual members helps prepare them to be responsible members of the business community.

V.I.C. Training Opens Employment

Vocational Industrial Club is one of the two programs offered at D.H.S. in which students are able to spend one-half of their school day working in medical and industrial capacities. One hour is spent each day in class discussion of various techniques and business approaches to be used in on-the-job training. Besides these extracurricular activities, members participate in district and state contests.

Horseshoe Staff Acquires Journalistic Skills

The combined efforts of the thirteen-member Horseshoe staff provide the student body with an informative newspaper. Published six times a semester, the Horseshoe is a combination of school news, feature stories, editorials and sports. Each student helps with the countless jobs required for a good publication. Layout planning, writing and proofreading copy and selling advertisements are all essential jobs for each issue.

Good layout for a paper is essential and involves careful planning. Staff writers Elise Durham, Joan Hockaday, Heather Sturrock and Gayla Wilkinson offer Ann Sidor suggestions for the layout of the Homecoming issue.

After many hours of writing and planning, journalists are anxious to see their finished product. Editors Sara Leith and Pam Tarrant examine the latest issue of the Horseshoe with their sponsor Mrs. Moon.

Time never hangs heavy on the hands of a staff member. Ruth Perkins, typist; Kay Kittrell, business manager and Jonna Woodson, editorial writer take time out from their duties to examine the most recent issues while Tommy Bonk and Keith Bass, sports editors, look on.

FBLA Stresses Business Responsibility

All students taking business courses such as typing or shorthand are encouraged to join the Future Business Leaders of America. Stressing the responsibility of America's business leaders to their communities is an important goal of the club. Only in its second year at DHS, FBLA now has 46 members. The club attended a convention in Arlington and will host a state convention in February.

Annual Staff Strives to Produce

Karen Friedsam, assistant editor, and Mrs. Betty Moon, sponsor, compare last year's dummy with this year's to see if any improvements can be made.

Business manager Janet Ferguson checks over the receipts from the advertising. She is responsible for all financial matters throughout the year.

Editor Janice Weibel smiles as she reviews pages in the dummy which have already been packed into the final copy shipment. The heaviest responsibility for producing each Bronco falls on the editor. She must oversee the work of each staff member and make certain that all deadlines are met.

Assistant photographer Don Roberson often works after school to print pictures. He removes several pictures from the dryer.

Accurate Record of School Year

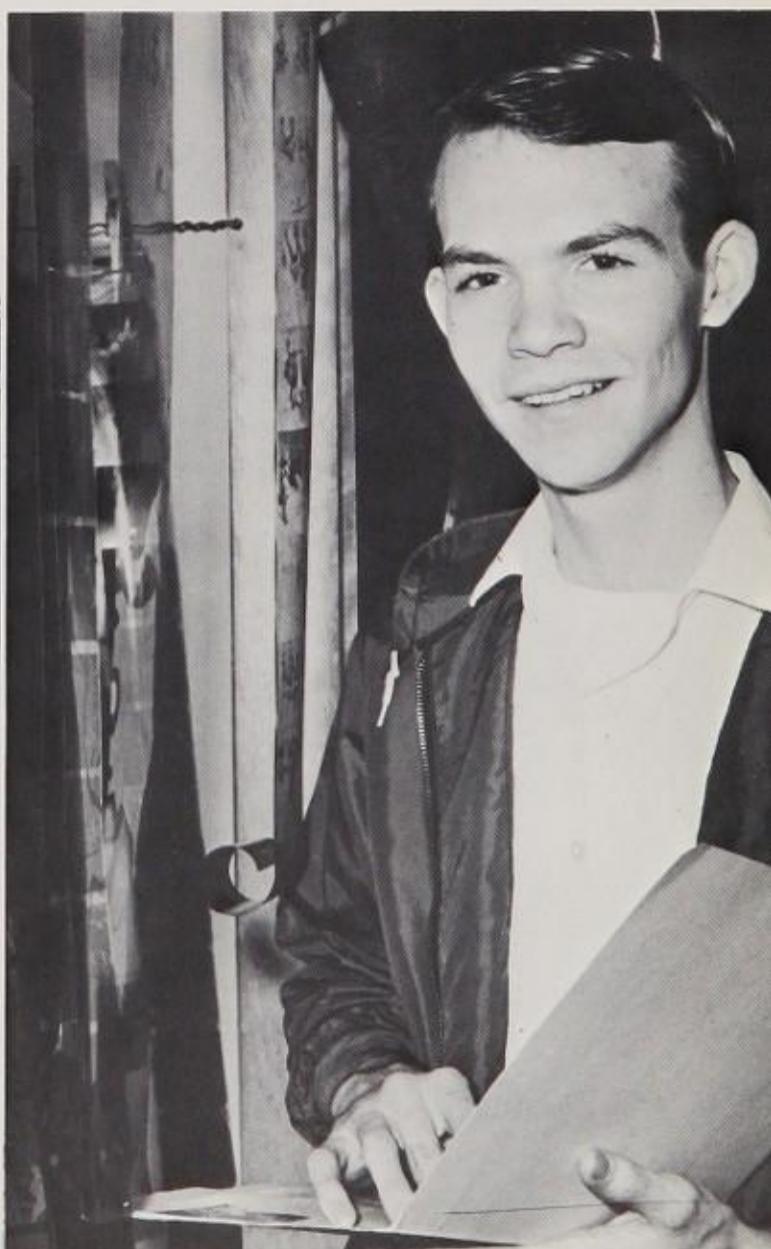

Typist Mira Steadman finishes a page in order to meet a deadline. Her responsibilities include typing the copy for each page of the annual.

Sports editors, Ronnie Camp and Bobby Samuel, draw up layouts for the sports section. Through this section they record the sports events of the school year.

Excellence Achieved Through

Crispin Miller

Each year the National Merit Scholarship Program is offered to juniors in high school who wish to evaluate themselves in relation to persons of their own age group. The test encompasses only the subjects taught to high school students and is offered on a completely voluntary basis. Through this nationwide program, students whose scores rank in the upper one percentile are given scholarships and high recommendations to the colleges of their choice. Others who receive high scores are given letters of recommendation to their chosen college. This year two Denton High students, Crispin Miller and Dan Pearce, excelled in the program and will be awarded with the highest honors, both the scholarship and the recommendation.

Bronco's Ability is Exhibited

David Walker (7) meets little resistance as he returns a North Dallas punt. A slippery Bronco Field hindered the game, although the Bulldogs scored twice. The Broncos were held scoreless, and the season opener ended 12-0.

Denton's Homecoming clash with Denison was a game of thrills. Denison held a 7-0 lead until the fourth quarter, when the Broncos drove 64 yards to make the score 7-6. The Broncos gambled for two points, and the game, but the conversion failed, forcing Denton to concede the heartbreaker to Denison 7-6.

Through Closely Fought Games

A first quarter score put the Broncos ahead of Irving MacArthur 7-6. The Broncos retained their lead until the third period, when Irving kicked a field goal for a 9-7 lead. The Broncos threatened again, but could not make the deciding score.

Earl Nuckles (37) swings around left end to pick up needed yardage for the Broncos. Nuckles, who ran for 62 yards in 12 carries, helped spark Denton to an early lead over Irving MacArthur, but the Cardinals scored a field goal to deny the Broncos a most deserved win.

Evading a North Side rusher, Gerard Lowrey (5) races for a 41-yard punt return. The Broncos held a 6-0 lead through the first half, but the Steers took advantage of second half errors to slip by the Broncos 21-6.

Long Awaited Victory Result of

Buff quarterback Tommy Hege's (10) fourth period scoring attempt is foiled by Duke Roberson (64) while Richard Long (62) breaks through the line to assist.

Earl Nuckles (37) side-steps two Buffalo defenders and picks up yardage for the Broncos. The valiant attempts of the Bronco offense resulted in a 13-7 victory for Denton.

Invincible were the Broncos against Haltom City. The combination of quarterback Chris Kirk to end Dwight Fain and a sparkling Bronco defense resulted in a 13-7 victory over the Buffaloes. The first score came in the second quarter on a 7 yard pass from Kirk to Fain. In the third quarter, Haltom took the lead 7-6, but the Broncos retaliated in the final period. Fain took a 36 yard pass from Kirk to score the deciding points. Fumble recoveries by the alert Bronco defense set up both Denton scores.

Denton High started off its basketball season by defeating Samuell, Thomas Jefferson, and Bryan Adams, the powerhouses from Dallas. The Broncos posted a 17-7 season record capturing the North Zone crown. Denton then progressed to the district level to secure the District title by overwhelming Highland Park in an exciting two-out-of-three series. However, three days later the Broncos dropped the Bi-District honors to John Tyler 63-60.

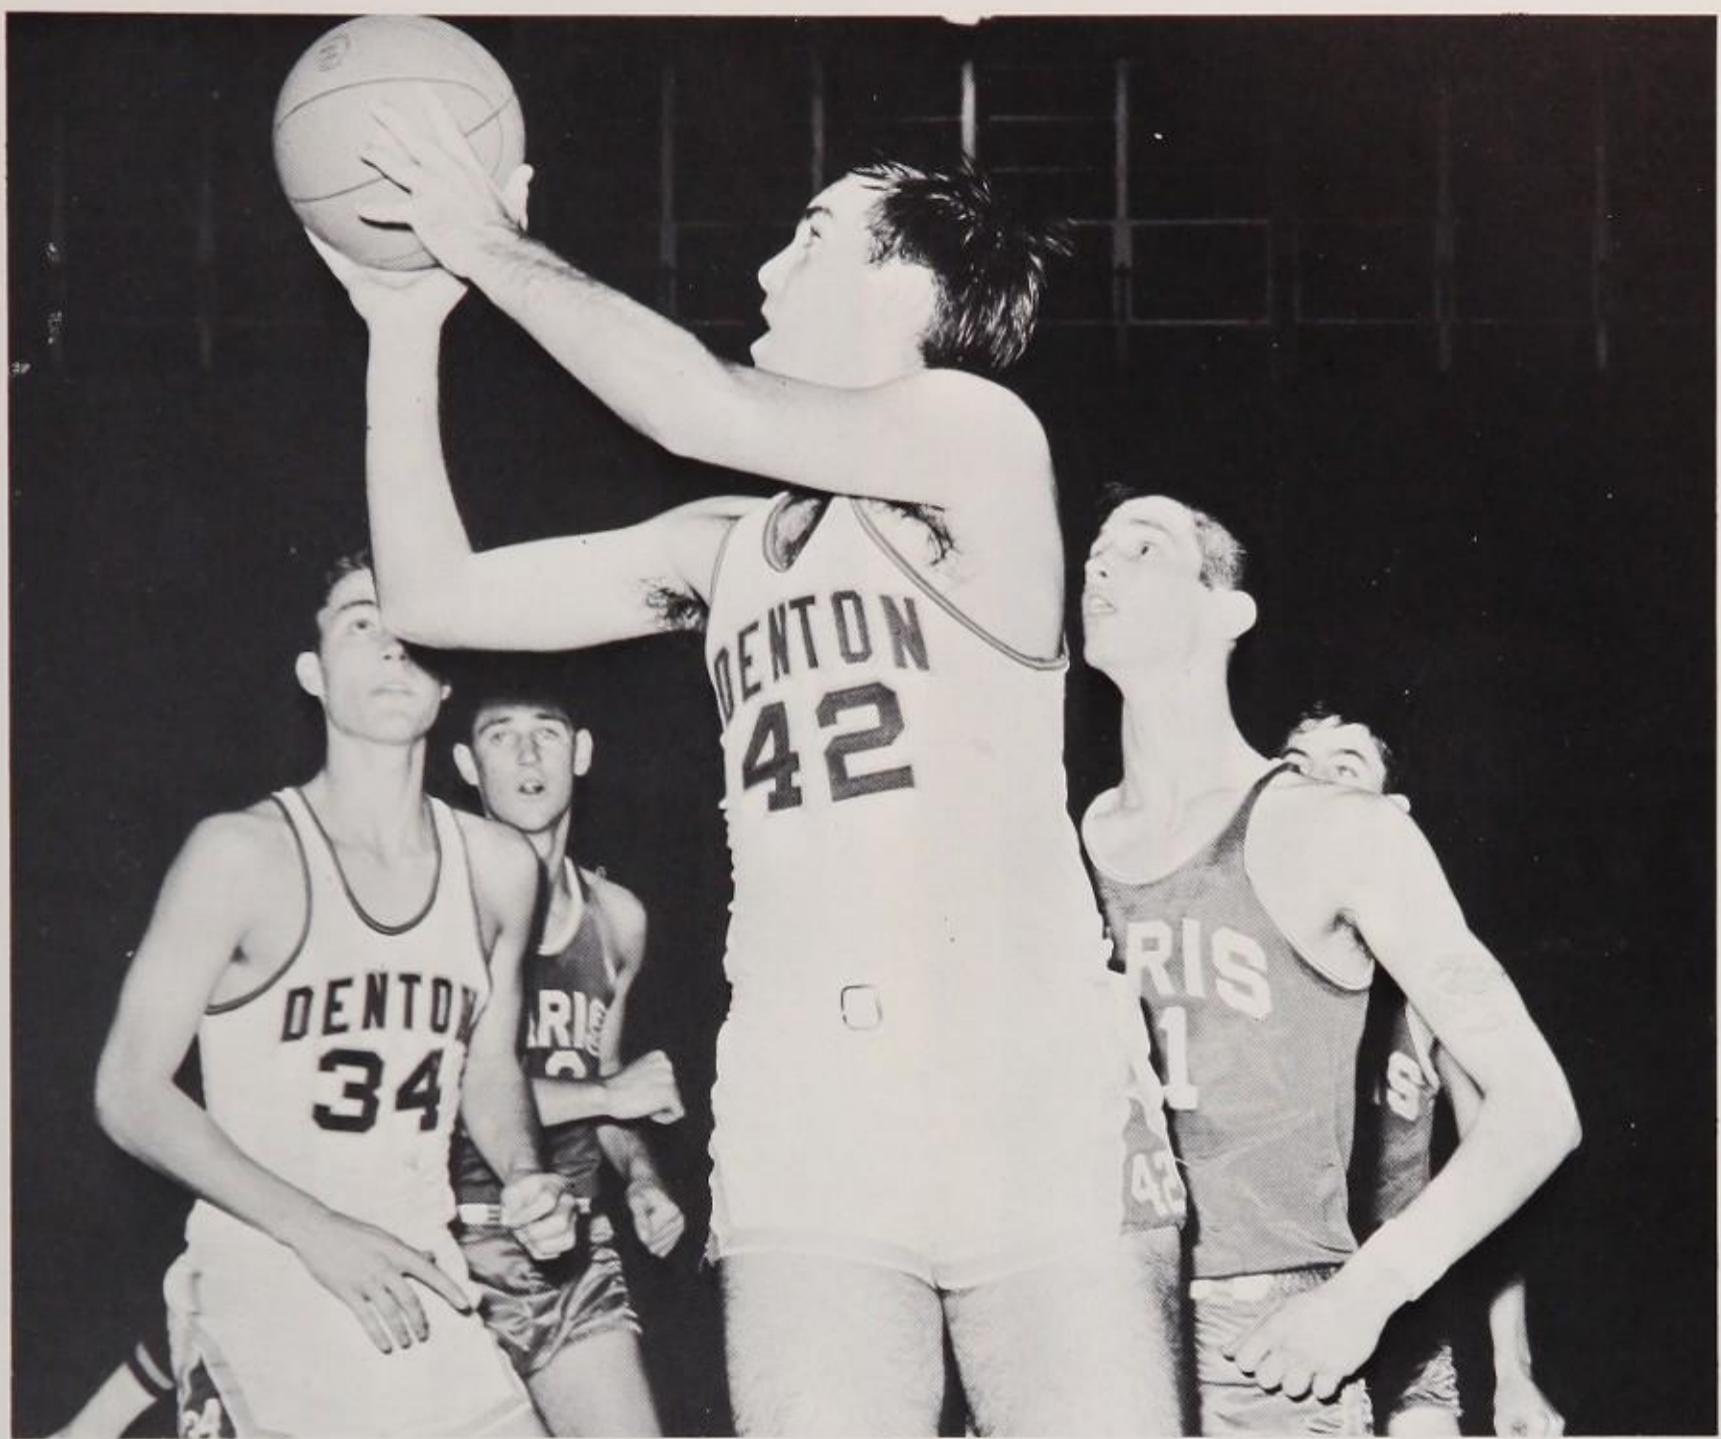

A layup becomes easy when Wally Cochran (30) finds himself in the clear. The 64-52 victory over Denison put the Broncos' zone record three wins and no losses.

Butch Smith (32) and South Garland's Henry Swanson (40) display reactions as Smith's shot heads toward the basket. An impressive team effort by the Broncos resulted in a 73-57 victory over the Colonels and kept Denton in the race for the North Zone title.

Clinch North Zone Crown

Glenn Weaver (34) looks on hopefully as Larry Fuller (42) drives upward for a shot. Paris defeated Denton in this game 69-61, but the Broncos retaliated in the final game of the season to upset Paris 62-60 and cinch the North Zone Championship.

Dan Laney (10) and a Sherman Bearcat find themselves in an awkward situation in an attempt to capture a rebound. The Broncos started off zone play on the right foot with a 68-63 victory over Sherman.

Coach Nix looks on with concern as Dan Laney is treated for a nose injury received as the result of a fall on the gym floor.

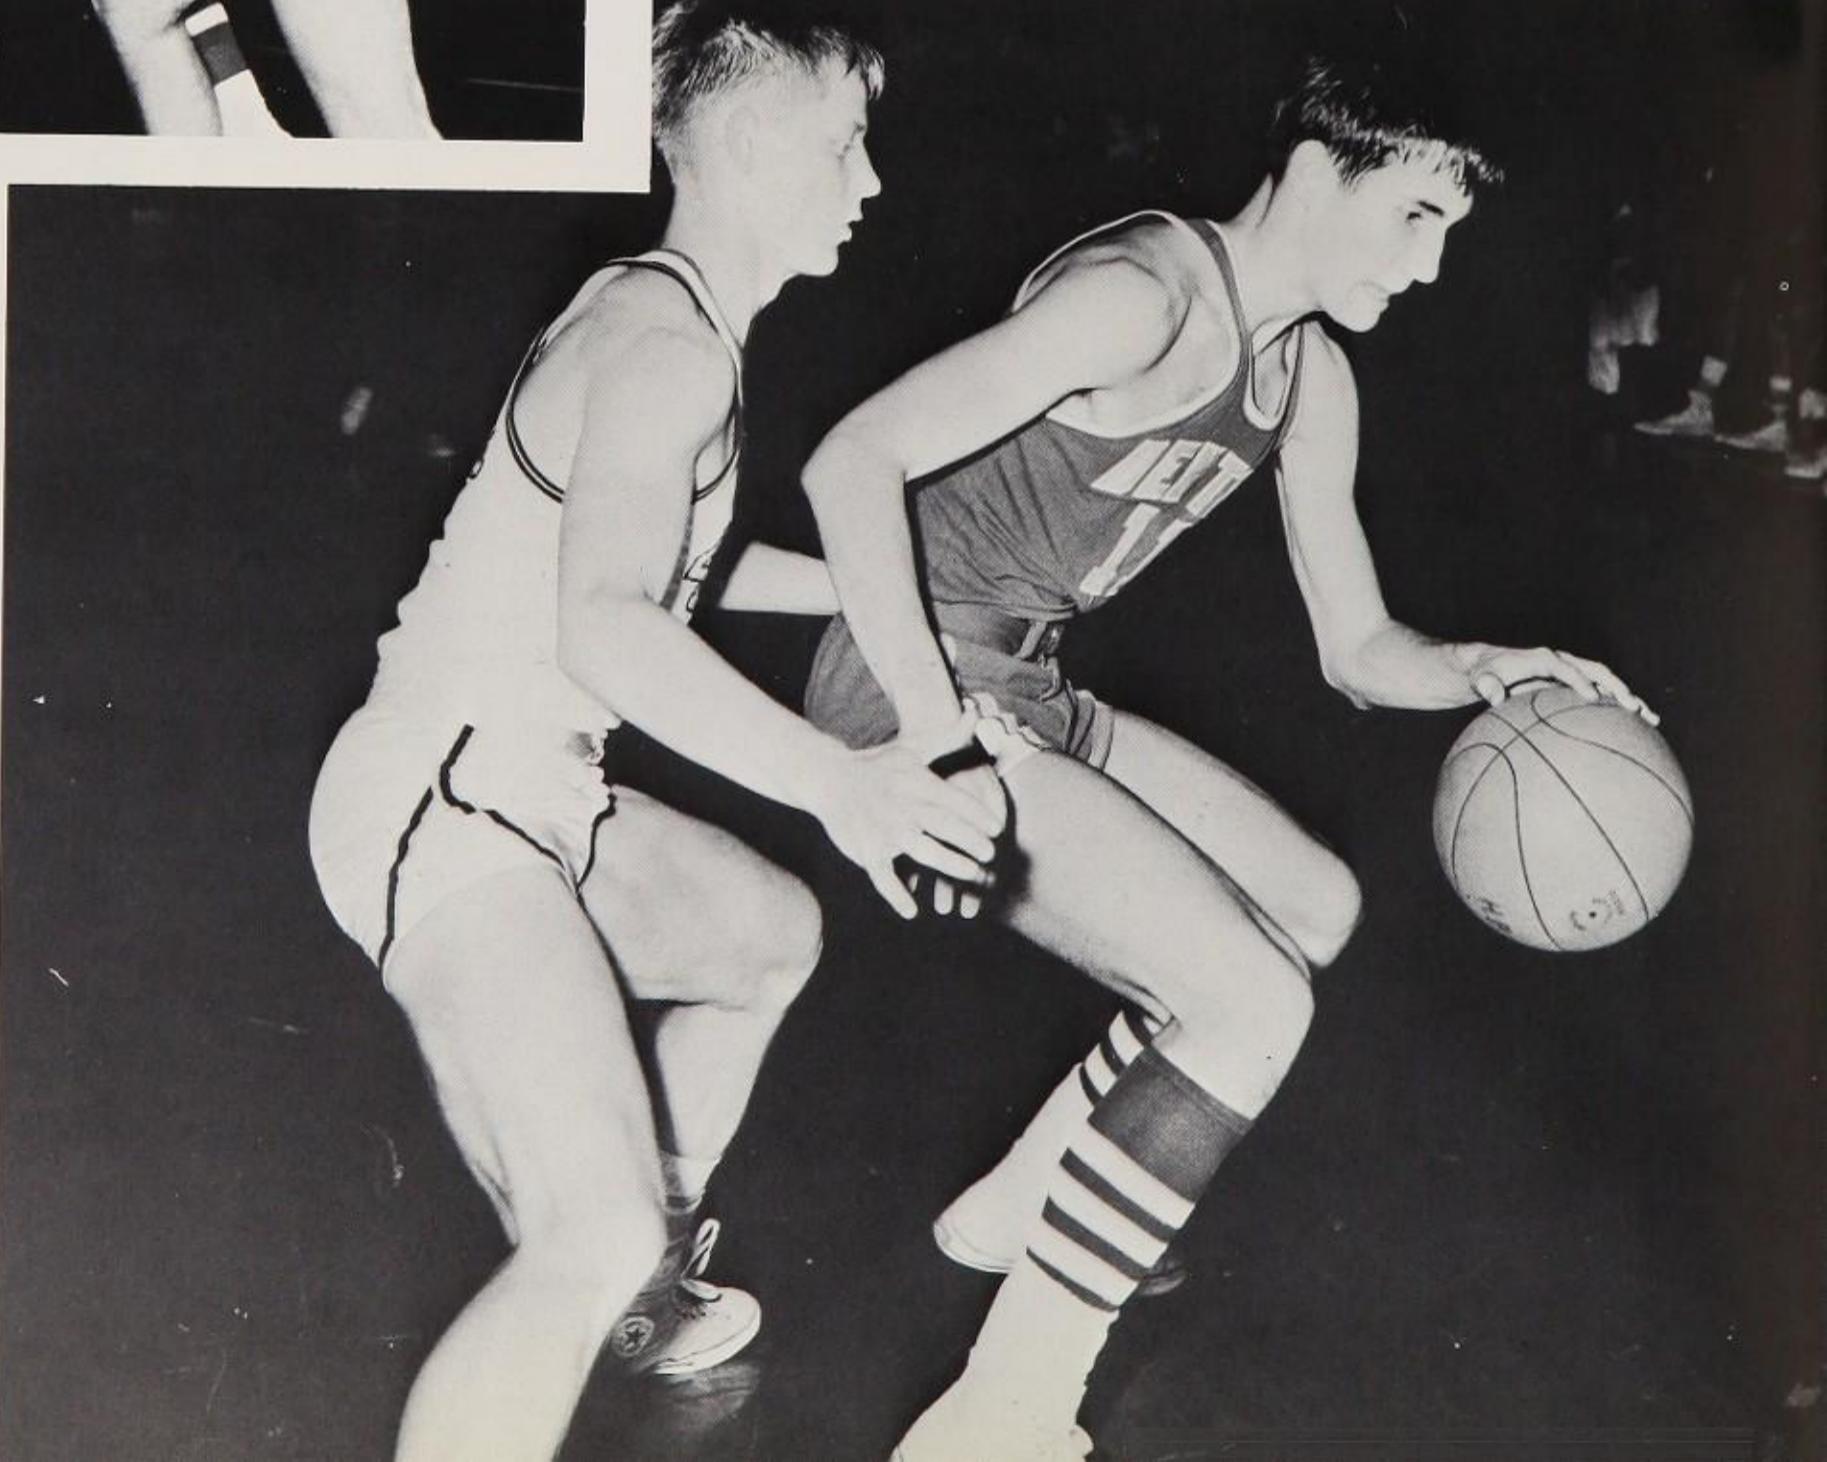

Broncos Rally to Defeat Highland-

As the final minutes tick away, Highland Park tries to gain control of the ball. But Glenn Weaver (35) keeps the ball under the Denton basket by snatching an important rebound. With only 8 seconds left, the Scotties trailing by 1 attempted a shot. Wally Cochran, however, blocked the ball to give the Broncos a 49-48 decision.

A long stall by Denton was a major factor in the first win over Highland Park. Here, Dan Laney's (11) quick dribbling keeps the ball out of Scottie reach. The 49-48 victory over Highland Park extended the series to a third game.

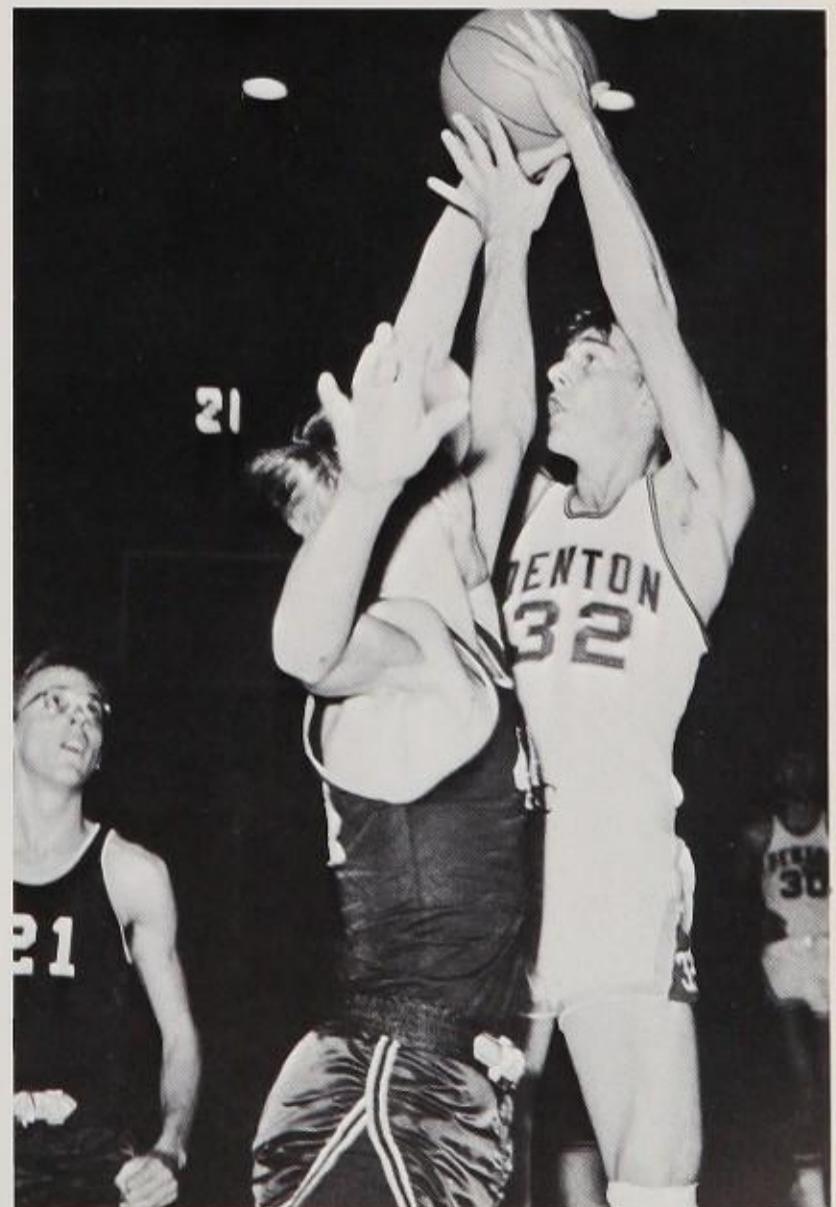

Park for District Championship

Attempting only the best shots, Larry Fuller (43) drives in from under the basket as Glenn Weaver (35) poised for a possible rebound. In the final game, played at Loos Fieldhouse, Highland Park led at halftime 36-31, but Denton was ahead at the end of the third period 46-44. As in the second game, the Broncos held the ball as much as possible. The Scotties came within 5 points of Denton in the fourth quarter, but the Broncos held for a 60-57 victory and the 7-4a Crown.

Outjumping a Highland Park defender, Butch Smith (32) attempts a shot. The first game of the series saw Denton leading 36-32 at the half, and 50-46 into the fourth period. But then the Broncos began to cool, and the Scotties moved ahead to take the first game 69-57.

Broncos Fall to Tyler for Bi-District

Dan Laney (11) drives through the Tyler defense to put up a shot for the Broncos. Laney, who totaled 21 points against the Lions, helped spark a second half rally, but the Broncos fell short of victory, with the final score 63-60.

With the Broncos only a few points from victory, ball control became the major factor. Below, Butch Smith (33) scrambles for a loose ball. The Broncos, who trailed 40-27 at the half, rallied in the second half, scoring 33 to Tyler's 25. With seconds left, Denton had come within two points of a win, 61-60, but Tyler scored again to take the bi-district title 63-60.

Diligently for Spring Meets

In training to improve his endurance and speed, Duke Roberson practices on the low hurdles.

Hank Thomas, Gary Tonn, Jim Walling and Steve Rhore prepare to sprint a 440 yard dash in their rigorous practice schedule. These boys and the other members of the L.H.S. track team exercise faithfully every day in hopes of bringing track and field honors to Denton High School.

Tennis Team Strives for Perfection

The members of the 1967 tennis team are Dailey Pike, Bobby Harpool, Bobby Cambron, Cindy Kitterell, Coach Vern Lane, Sara Leith.

With the arrival of spring, D.H.S. students have the opportunity to engage in tennis competition, under the guidance of Coach Vern Lane. In daily practices, the tennis team develops basic skills which are vital in the fast-moving sport.

Bobby Cambron waits attentively as his partner, Bobby Harpool, returns a serve.

Good form and poise are displayed by Sara Leith as she prepares to serve the ball to her opponent.

Honors Promotes Team Effort

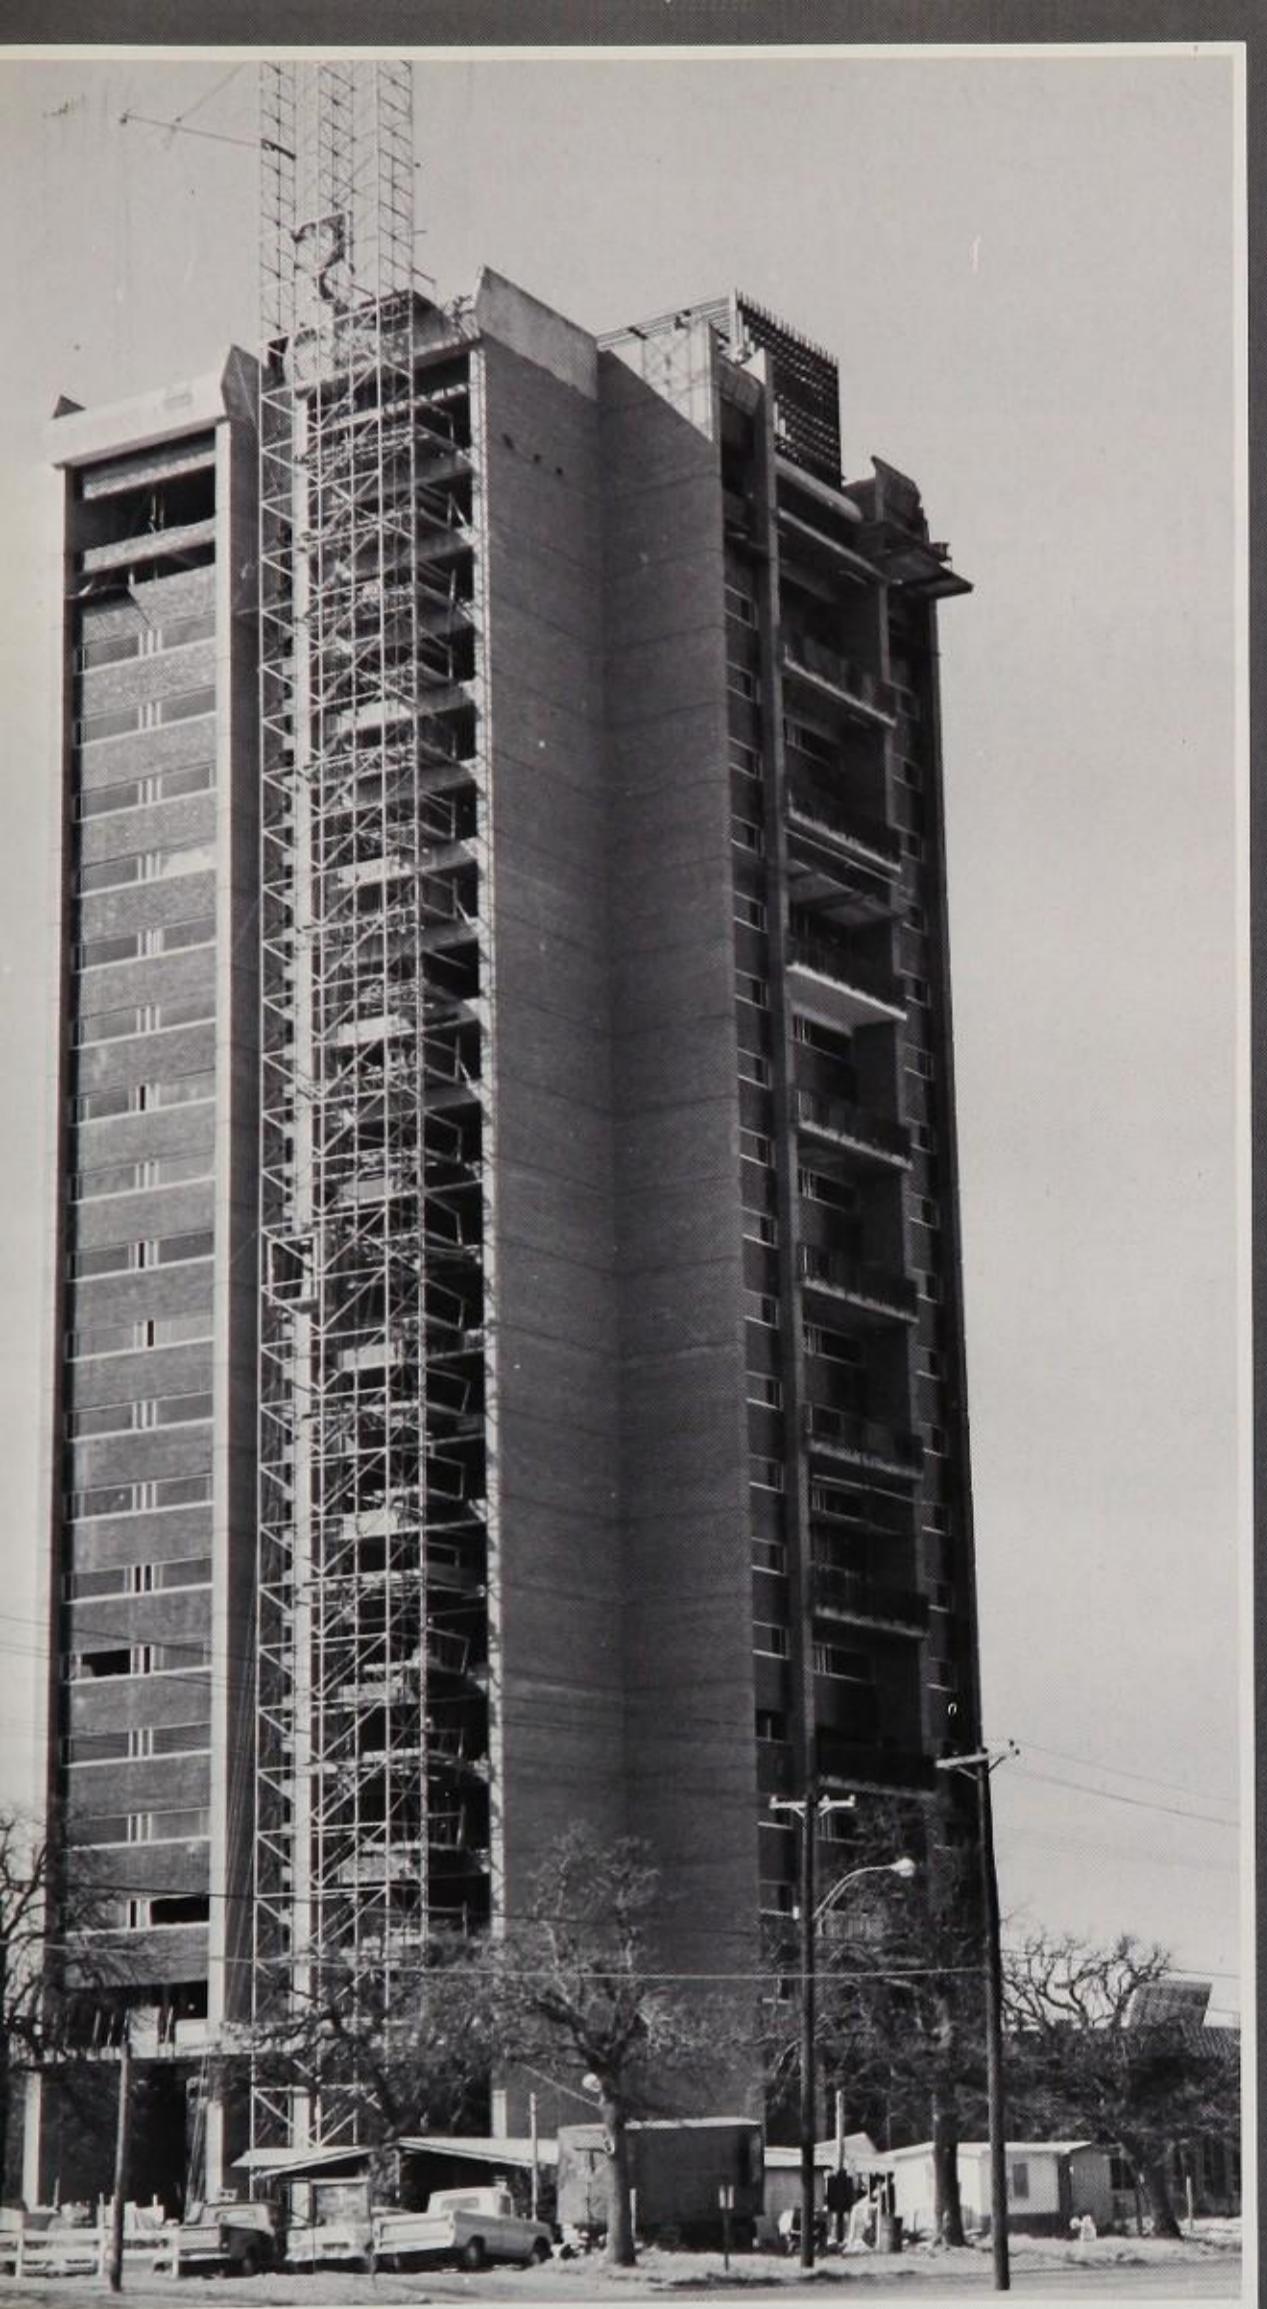

After a prolonged basketball season, the D.H.S. baseball team began preparations for the 1967 season. In the battle for district awards, the team will face a difficult schedule. Defending the North Zone Championship, the Broncos exhibit pride, skill and sportsmanship to bring more honors to Denton High.

Coach Cotton Nix indicates the Thomas Jefferson field positioning in establishing batting and running strategy.

If we could only IMPRESS upon High School Students the importance of starting a Savings Program while they are young we would feel we had made great progress. An unwavering loyalty to such a program regardless of how insignificant the amount may seem can only result in a feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment. This important habit is one of the keys to a successful and rewarding life and we value the friendship of all our customers regardless of the size of their account.
